EWorks: Dead or Alive first UK test

Cross a Jackie Chan flick with Debbie Does Dallas and you get Dead or Alive: hard, fast and more bounce than a trampolining puppy.

ubs are fun. What could be better than getting pissed, having a scrap and sizing up girls? But wait. Now you can enjoy the lot at home. Just grab a six pack and the rather tasty Dead or Alive. You won't be disappointed...

Works: Dead or Alive first UK test

What we like

Kung Fu fighting

Dead or Alive has got a fresh feel about it. Fights are manic, pulse-pumping affairs. In a typical scrap, flurries of punches and kicks get fired off. Some get countered, some blocked and others land with sickening power. It's just like watching an old skool Kung Fu film.

¶ Blocked shots...

Awesome power-packed attacks...

Ultra-slick counterstrikes...

And super stylish moves...

Oooh. Feel the pain. Dead or Alive is your chop-socky fantasies come true

One man and his breasts

The first things that'll strike you in Dead or Alive are the breasts — there's just no getting away from 'em. None of these babes have heard of a sports bra 'cos the slightest movement gets their hooters bouncing around like pups in a bag. We found out it took one bloke about a year to get the jiggling spot on. Wonder what sort of research he did...

1 Airborne, Lei's still firm 2 Coming down gravity takes hold 3 They've gotta life of their own

Graphics

Creamier than a food fetish mag. Slicker than an oil spill. Sexier than a bathful of Baywatch babes... Dead or Alive looks flippin' gorgeous. Characters are ultra-realistic, silky smooth and they move perfectly. Backgrounds are a bit dull but that's so the game can move like lightning. Sheer poetry mate.

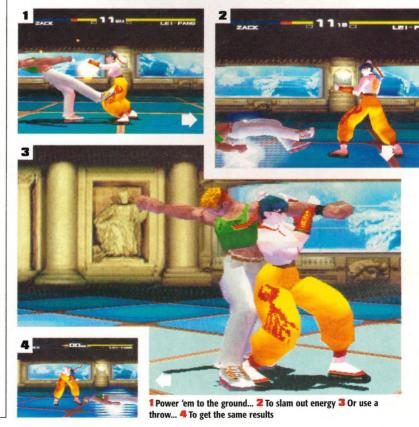

1 Characters stay solid when they get together 2 Even flying through the air they're fast and smooth 3 Not many special effects to watch but attacks are still bloody cool

Danger zone

Ring-outs are for ponces. What you want is an area outside the ring that's like a minefield. Hammer your enemy into this zone and wham — the ground explodes, increasing damage. Finish fighters off in the boundary and their lifeless bodies fly about 50 feet into the air.

'Hooters bouncing around...:

Basic attacks

Just two buttons control the basics. One for kicking, the other for punching. But don't panic, each fighter's got loads of simple but nasty strikes to call on. Bread and butter blows are super-fast but don't do much damage. Use 'em to soften up opponents, then go in hard.

Secret character Ayane uses a mid kick...
Bayman ain't happy and slaps her back

Proof old gits can still handle themselves...

And that girls aren't wimps

Counters

Now this is cool. Dead or Alive has a button for counter-moves. When someone makes a lunge, knock away the blow or grab their leg or arm and twist 'em round. Now you can shlap in a counterstrike. Timing is essential here and remember it's possible for your enemy to counter your counter.

■ In comes a punch. Ouch, that'll hurt unless Bass can block. He does...

■ And with panther-like speed immediately counters with a forearm smash

■ Blocks ain't just limited to punches. Enemys' kicks can also be knocked away...

■ And while they're vulnerable, followed-up with knockout blows

■ Another counter works when someone comes a-running at ya...

■ And you swiftly switch positions and turn 'em to bugger up their balance

Specials

Special strikes are simple to pull off but have pretty mean results. Try stomping all over a lifeless corpse, ramming home a headbutt, sticking an elbow in the face, chuck an atomic punch, or howz about a reverse parallel chop? Again loads to try out, but don't expect over-the-top effects. It feels like you could do all this stuff in real life.

1 A two-button special... 2 Springs Kasumi into the air 3 Kaz has also got a three-button kick...
4 That goes in under the guard 5 Check out a replay of Jann's dragon punch... 6 It flings
Hayabusa out of the ring... 7 And smashes him into the danger zone

Face to face

Despite all its gorgeous 3D graphics, Dead or Alive is essentially a 2D beat 'em up. Unlike Tekken 3 you can only get around the side or back of opponents at certain times. You can move to the side getting up from the deck, when avoiding certain attacks, or by using a counterstrike. Pity, but it doesn't take that much away from the gameplay.

■ Jann lines up a dragon kick, but Lei is ready and moves to the side...

■ She turns, ready to strike back, as he sails by, all slapstick comedy, like

#Works: Dead or Alive first UK test

Throws

Each fighter has throws to match their style. Most are straightforward, but the more outrageous moves are tricky. Top of the list is Bayman, who can launch you into the air, warp next you and slam you back into the canvas. Some of the girls are good at flings and wrestler Bass links loads of throws together.

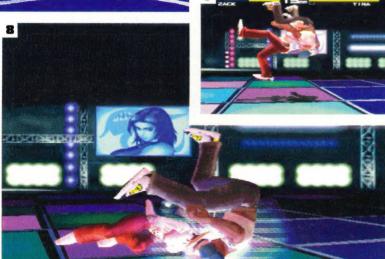

1 Grab Mr Crop Top by the hair... 2 And force his face into the sand 3 Pro wrestler Tina grabs Zack's feet... 4 And starts spinning him around... 5 One more turn of that lifeless body... 6 And away he goes 7 Time to finish the job 8 With a power drop into the charged area

We'd like to say...

We know, we know. You're waiting for September and the king of fighters, the amazing Tekken 3. But give Dead or Alive a chance, willya!

It's fresh and fast and in some ways just as good as Tekken 3. And we can't help but feel you're gonna love those bouncing bangers. So why not drink a few less pints, walk past the bookies instead of going in, save some sponds and get both, you know it makes sense.

Combos

Sure, you can learn a great long list of combos, but Dead or Alive's approach is to let you string what you want together. All strikes are so quick you'll find yourself putting mad attacks together. The danger zone can also be used to bounce players on their ass straight into another onslaught.

■ Put together a bunch of slaps...

■ Then hammer 'em out of the ring

1 Here comes a series from Lei... 2 An open-hand smash... 3 Is followed by a split kick... 4 Then a high kick... 5 And finally a roundhouse ng kicks, lightning chop

Characters

Jann-Lee

Looks and fights like Bruce Lee. Jann-Lee is a bodyguard who uses Jeet Kune Do. Expect spinning kicks, lightning chops and funny screams.

Zack

A Dennis Rodman lookalike who spins the wheels of steel. US-born Zack does Thai kick boxing and fights a bit dirty, with elbows all over the shop.

■ Your inside leg measurement is...

Bass

Wow, it's Tina's dad. Bass is also a US pro-wrestler. In fact, he taught his kid the lot. He's a touch slow but hard as nails and capable of amazing throws.

■ Bass shows off with a clothesline

Gen-Fu

Old bloke who reads books but likes to get funky. A bugger to get right but his Shini-Rokugo-Ken style would give Wu-Tang a run for their money.

■ Charged-up balls from Gen

Bayman

Russian action man Bayman fights in the Commando Sambo style. What this boils down to is heavy, heavy punches and bone-breaking holds.

■ Bayman is always putting himself down

Get this — Ryu is a Ninja who owns an antiques shop in Japan. Probably sells

■ Being a Ninja, Ryu is a slippery character

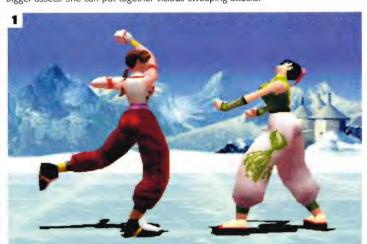

Queen Anne chairs. Definitely fights

with a touch of magic.

Kasumi

The main female fighter. A 17-year-old Ninja from Japan with big ambitions and bigger assets. She can put together vicious sweeping attacks.

1 Watch out for her sweeping slaps... 2 And her flippin' size nines... 3 And her jiggling chest

Lei-Fang

A Chinese student with plenty to prove. Lei-Fang practises Taikyoku-Ken, a graceful martial art that links loads of devastating moves together.

■ She's graceful but deadly

Tina

This feisty lass is a pro wrestler from the States. She's got a lot up front cos her moves are cool, hard and very fast. One mean bitch ladies and gents.

■ In her spare time Tina does the Gibbon

Modes

Dead or Alive gives you seven modes to get yer teeth into. Enter a full-on tournament, try and beat the fastest times, go one-on-one against a mate or fight in teams. See how many consecutive wins you can string together, aim to knock down 30, 50 or 100 in Kumite mode or build your skills in the comprehensive training section.

31

Works: Dead or Alive first UK

Costumes

One of the things that keeps you coming back for more in Dead or Alive is the costumes. Win a tournament and you'll get a new outfit. Some are a bit dull, others pretty smart, the rest are downright pervy. Little bra tops, nurses uniforms, catsuits with tails, the list just goes on and on. With over 100 to collect, finishing the game will take bloody ages.

1 Back to school fashion 2 Lei-Fang takes a break and catches some rays 3 Scuba gear modelled by Bayman 4 Jann-Lee gets down to business 5 Cat scrapping with Tina

Rude deaths

Fighting isn't sweet and lovely. It's painful, nasty, lowdown stuff and Dead or Alive knows it. Wipe someone out and your character will show off before the poor bugger has even hit the deck. It's a real 'You mean nothing to me' touch

Looks like big boy is going down A nasty smash into the danger zone Lei celebrates as Bass bombs And adds a stomp in the nuts

Extras

Two new characters are hidden in Dead or Alive and there's a series of extra options to open. These add new voices, open picture galleries and allow you to change things about the game. Besides that you can chuck the CD in your stereo and play the music.

■ Play as bossman Raidou

Or play with boss lady Ayane

Taunts

Besides special moves, each character has a unique way of taunting enemies. Not quite flicking the finger or shouting things about mothers, but along those lines. Taunting doesn't make you harder, or add special abilities, but it's a good way to wind up yer mates.

1 I'm a little tea pot short and stout... Now bugger off before I kick your head in 2 Come and get some you tart 3 More Bass you say, how about this... in yer face bitch!

winner A bit hard to get into, but one helluva punch up. Dead or Alive has got all the moves and you get to watch women jiggle. Need we say more? Jon

Cheshire: the case for and against

Is Cheshire home to pervies? We put it in the dock

THE CASE AGAINST

1 This letter:

I would like to say that all the real women out there are all very sexy, and that I think Lara stinks. 17 Cheshire

- 2 Chris from Cheshire lives there
- 3 They've got a strange fixation with cheese
- 4 Melissa Chase, who wanted us to put nudey blokes in the mag, also lives there.

THE CASE FOR

1 This letter:

Although I'm from Cheshire, I am sane, unlike most of the PlayStation Plus readers from here who either draw pictures of naked computer generated images or think they're monkeys or hamsters. I love your mag and Louise Meldrum and think that your reviews are honest and detailed

SICK, TWISTED, ONE-TRACK...

Since the release of games like GTA, myself and my friend have devised some ideas for those of us who have a thirst for sick and mindless games. Take Thug, a game that requires following football team hooligans around, gaining money during your battles with rival teams to pay for better 'tools' for the job! Bottles, baseball bats, knuckle dusters... Who knows? A sequel could be called Thug 98 where you follow your team through Europe or England in France. Mention it to the Daily Star, they'll probably do a huge story on it, bless 'em We've got a horde of sick, twisted and depraved games for designing if anyone has the guts. Class CLASS

I am a psychologist specialising in the area of children's development of moral and social attitudes. A recent experiment of mine involved asking nine-year-olds to play Grand Theft Auto (with parental consent) and observing them for signs of antisocial behaviour. To my horror, I have created a gang of miniature delinquents who have been terrorising the town with their horrendous antics. This is a thoroughly dreadful result!

However, I am a responsible scientist and am currently working on a countermeasure. This involves training 11-13 year olds on Duke Nukem and sending them out to hunt the little bastards down.

ICE HOCKEY IS NOT POPULAR!

Although Wayne Gretzky 3D Hockey is utter toss, your comments about ice hockey only being big in America was a stinking mound of shite. Where have you been lately? Living under a rock? Anyone involved in your magazine needs their heads examined. We've missed the fact that ice hockey's a big-time sport over here have we? Then we've also missed the hours and hours of TV that's been devoted to ice hockey. The ice hockey players that are now household names. The ice hockey shirts people have taken to wearing down the pub. The enormous interest in the latest ice hockey challenge cup and, of course, the ice hockey sticker album that's selling like hot cakes. Oh, and aren't all the All Saints going out with ice hockey players? It's just terrible underneath this rock...

PETRIE DISH

This is a letter to everyone who has complained about the time it took them to complete Final Fantasy VII. I have completed it three times and each time I have defeated all three Weapons, bred gold chocobos and got my characters up to level 80+ with level four limit breaks. It took me 41 hours to finish it the first time and about 55 hours the other times. It's just one big party round your house, isn't it? I am not complaining about the '80 hours of gameplay' or the time you spend reading. I don't care how long it takes to complete it. I shed a tear when Aeris died and when Red XIII discovered the truth about his father. I looked on in awe at the power of the Knights of the Round. I felt a sense of achievement when I defeated the Ruby and Emerald Weapons. These are signs of an excellent game.

So shut up you whinging freaks. When somebody who has spent 151 hours completing a game three times calls somebody else a freak, you know the world is a topsy-turvy place. Appreciate Final Fantasy VII for the wonder it is and not how long it takes to complete it.

You slag off the manager when your favourite team loses, but d'you reckon you could do any better? Yeah? Go on then, we dare you...

eckon you can do a better job than Alex Ferguson? Controlling 11 burly blokes ain't easy, but we're gonna give you the chance to have a go. And if you're good enough, we're even gonna pay you for it. Yup, PlayStation, in association with Gremlin, is giving a whopping £2,000 to the wannabe Wenger who can come up with the ultimate team for top footy sim, Premier Manager 98.

Team building

First you've gotta know your Seamans from your Scholes. Y'do? OK, now all you need do is create your ultimate dream team. You've got the whole of the Premier League 98 line-up to choose from. You can have either Wrighty or Bergkamp up front. Or both. It's

You can also decide what position they play, but sticking 'em in the right place is obviously gonna help your chances. After all, Liverpool's itsy-bitsy Michael Owen ain't much good in goal, but stick him in the firing line and he's a demon.

Winning wonga

When you've worked out your winning XI, and the positions they'll play, you can then fill out the coupon at the bottom of the page with your name, address and your team and send it to the address on the coupon. The entries will be judged by the Actua Soccer and Premier Manager programming teams, as well as 'top' TV commentator Barry Davies, whittling 'em down to the final two dream teams. These'll be entered in the Premier Manager database and played off against each other in the ultimate footy final! But the winner doesn't get a cruddy cup, they get £2,000! Result!

This is a game for kids. And it's all about eating meat. So if you're worried any voungsters near you might turn into veganlentil-casserole-munching hippy dipshits, buy

'You're up against a world of pink pigs. Bounce 'em. Kill 'em. Eat 'em...'

Got any gammon?

There's loads of characters who pop up on your quest to baconise the seven evil pigs, and they'll send you off to pick up items to help in your mission. And you're even able to choose where to go. Clever, huh?

t had to happen eventually. 'Boarding has been cool for years and now some guy decides it needs cute cartoon kids. Still, they ride on futuristic high-tech hoverdecks, so they can't be that bad, eh? At least not till they hit puberty

Hit the deck

There's this evil type, calling himself Krakken. For some dodgy, and quite possibly illegal, reason he's kidnapped the pals of Xako and Mia, the characters you play as.

Pick either Xako, a rebellious chip of a lad, or Mia, the girly girl. Then get on that 'deck and kick some cartoon ass!

Work the board over 40 levels of action, including tracks, races and stunt levels. The levels are open enough to give you room to pull off some cunning stunts.

Mission: impossible

The levels are divided into four worlds: ice, jungle, desert and the underworld. Sadly, there's no strip club level. The areas look hot and are full of detail.

All the usual gubbins are here, like dealing with enemies in a non-violent manner, pick-ups and dodging obstacles. There's no carnage though, and to beat the bosses of the game you have to race 'em. We say an Uzi does the job better.

Each time you rescue a friend, you get a new 'deck, which has a new stunt. Should keep things interesting.

The Fifth Eleme

Get your hands on a sexy alien chick and save the world. All that without getting messy bedsheets...

f you've lived under a rock, or in some parts of rural Devon, for the past year, you won't know about The Fifth Element. It's a superb sci-fi flick with Milla Jovovich looking hot as Leeloo the alien stunnah and Bruce Willis pulling funny faces as Dallas Korben, tuff geezer. It's a cool film, but will it make a decent game?

Earth, wind and fire

Korben and Leeloo have to track down four ancient stones leading to the fifth element and saving the world. Sounds like Tomb Raider to us. Hey, it looks like Tomb Raider, too. Choose to play as either Leeloo or Korben, fighting your way over 15 3D levels, with movie footage inbetween. The character you pick makes the game different to play.

Leeloo uses her fists in a ruck, whereas Korben pulls out a meaty gun and splatters some alien brain.

The game looks a lot like the film, with loads of futuristic scenery. Travel through New York in 2213, a floating hotel and the Egyptian temple. Tangle with force fields, death traps and time bombs on your quest. You even get to scrap with enemies from the film. There's exploring as well as fighting, so the trigger finger gets a rest every now and again.

You start off as a military grunt, fresh out of bog-cleaning duties. Start small scraps around the world for starters and eventually you'll get to kick some real global ass. Make sure you get France for hogging all the World Cup tickets. It may sound dull, but it ain't. The graphics are a treat and far better than the tiny Command and Conquer look.

The world's your oyster

The game works on two levels, with the strategy element deciding where and how to attack. Then you play an action attack game. It's a real head-screwer, too. You're not just defending a base, but bases all over the world. Heavy, man... The coolest thing is you can make your own game, attacking where you want and taking things from there. Interesting...

This is a supa-smooth racer that looks a bit like Gran Turismo. Take to the streets for some real racin' with the usual techno sounds. It looks pretty nifty and plays well. There are enough modes to keep you going and it could do well after Gran Turismo hits the shelves.

Golf is hardly the most thrilling game to have, but let's give it a chance. He may be German, but he can really handle his balls well.

All the thrills of golf'll be here. Choosing the clubs, teeing off and funny chequered trousers. Details are sketchy, so golf maniacs'll have to wait till we can get you new news.

More old games bunged onto a single CD. The phrase 'money for old rope' springs to mind. This is another compilation of seven 'classic' games from developers Namco. For classic, read 'cruddy, old and slow' The best game of the lot is Rolling Thunder, a James Bond-style platformer. Other games include Dragon Sabre, a dull shooter, and Sky Kid, a cutey flying game.

GAME CHANNEL

Mideogames are set to get their own television station. This Autumn a channel will spend 100% of it's time bringing you loads of games info, especially on PlayStation titles.

The station will be based in France (boo), but we'll also be able to get it via satellite and cable (hurrah).

SONY SKATE TOUR

omb Raider 3 is already on the cards. One giant playable level has been designed to show just how cool the sequel will be.

Details are slim, but we've found out about a couple of improvements. It seems landscapes will be bigger and more visible. Lara will also be up against more creatures at the same time. Let's just hope it's less of a shoot fest like the last one and more puzzle-orientated like Tomb Raider 1.

Creamy Fluids

Music maker show

he new music-making game Fluid was unveiled to an audience of famous DJs in the Sony PlayStation tent at the Creamfields dance festival recently. Roni Size was there to have a bang with Fluid's DJing dolphin, and top jocks may be releasing remixes using game samples. It's possible you'll be able to buy memory cards with Fluidbased music by top DJs then use the game to fiddle with it yourself. Clever, huh?

Use the wheel Luke

Rumble force steering

Grab a driving game, plug in a new steering wheel from LMP and feel the Rumble Force. The wheel judders and vibrates to simulate road surfaces, knocks and spins. The little blighter will work with every racer under the sun and we can't wait to try it with Gran Turismo or Colin McRae. A price hasn't been set yet, but the LMP PSX Steering Wheel with Rumble Force should be out June.

How to get £2,000 part one

See that picture of four blokes in a bath? Don't get the wrong idea, this ain't a perverse four-player game. Nope, it's the ad for World League Soccer, what we think is the best footy game on the 'Station.

However, we don't reckon the ad does the game justice, so that's where you come in. We want you to mock up your own ad for the game, but it's gotta be in the same style: namely a photo of bath-time celebrations. There's one difference though: we don't wanna see burly blokes in your ad, we want some hot totty. We don't care who you get or how you do it, providing the end result is sexy, funny and, above all, legal (Like, we'll need written permission off the person you're photographing, OK? Oh, and no under-18 models).

How to get £2,000 part two

So you've got a snap of your girlfriend/wife/mate in the bath then whaddaya do? Send it to us. We'll enjoy drooling over the shots and if we reckon yours is the best, you get £2,000. So get snapping, fill in the coupon below and send your entries to World League Soccer compo, PlayStatics, 37-39 Millharbour, Isle of Dogs, London E14 9TZ by July 27th.

MIX: Stuff you need

you need

There are stacks of footy games around but sorting the toss from the boss ain't too easy. We show you every single soccer sim kicking it on the 'Station, how they shape up and their chances of winning the football game World Cup...

All Star Soccer

Odds: 250/1 With a name like that it should be favourite for winning the Cup, but the only thing this turkey's going home with is a red card.

Actua Soccer

This 'un's so old it'll probably be taken off limping in the first half, but up till then it shows some promise.

Soccer 97

Odds: 15/1 More a B-team than a World Cup-winning international squad, but it still has its moments of glory.

Winning odds: 300/1 More Sunday league losers than World Cup winners. Should be renamed 666 'cos this game's hell to play.

FIFA: RTWC

Odds: 15/1 Like the proper Columbia football squad, FIFA: RTWC is strong upfront but the keeper and defence ain't too hot.

FIFA 97

Odds: 150/1 Not half as good as England's B-team, let alone up there with Brazil and Germany. Looks nice though...

Odds: 150/1 The oldest player in the finals and it shows. This boneshaker's gonna be lucky to score. Even from a penalty.

Striker 96

Odds: 150/1 Like Morocco, there ain't much chance of this one winning the Cup, but there's one helluva pay-off if it goes all the way.

Twenty three sides, but only one can rule. Who's gonna win the World Cup?

Actua Soccer: Club Edition

Odds: 100/1 Name says it all, really. Should stick to the Premier League 'cos it ain't good enough for the International scene.

OnSide Soccer

Diabolical out on the pitch but the manager's a demon. No amount of sideline shouting's gonna win it the Cup though.

Power Soccer 2

Cruddy keeper but a strong attacking force. Get the ball forward and the strikers will knock it in the net.

Three Lions

Odds: 20/1

Like the Ireland 94 squad, we desperately wanted this to go all the way but shit, it ain't even gonna make it past the quarter-finals.

Actua Soccer 2

Odds: 5/1

One of the most exciting challengers for the Cup, combining speed with flair and skill guaranteed to keep the goals a-comin'.

Deluxe

Odds: 150/1

This game's older than the England 66 line-up. Dead slow, relying on basics rather than skill and flair.

Adidas Power Soccer

Odds: 100/1

Great sponsor, but this team's not up to International standards, not even for its Platinum price.

The old 'uns can't stand up against the new contenders...

World League Soccer

Seaman in goal. Our money's on this.

Adidas Soccer Int. 97

Fielding pretty much the same line-up as the first Power Soccer: pretty strong in attack, but dead average overall.

Olympic Soccer

Odds: 7/1

Uglier than Peter Beardsley but has flashes of football flair which keep this goal-scorin' genius in with a chance.

Super Football Champ

Odds: 200/1

Godawful Sunday Leaguer which shouldn't even have a ticket for the World Cup, let alone play in it.

Odds of winning: 6/1

Still knocking 'em in like a good 'un, but not quite up there alongside some of the more recent world beaters. A bit like France, really.

World Cup

Odds: 3/1

A strong team tasty both on the field and on the managerial side. It's even got World Cup mascot Footix in the starting line-up...

Kick Off 97

Odds: 150/1

Let's face it, this stinker's got no chance of getting past the play-offs. Hell, it probably won't even make it onto the plane...

Odds: 150/1

Decrepit bunch of oldsters who probably played in the 1928 World Cup. And they weren't any good even then...

MIX: Stuff you need

You know who's in the running, right? But which sides are gonna make it through to the finals? There are 23 teams battling for the Cup, but only eight can go through to the quarter finals.

This is where the Bulgarias are sorted out from your Brazils. OnSide Soccer, despite the managerial side of the game, just isn't fun to play and gets knocked out straightaway. ISS

Deluxe is too damn old to keep up with the newer soccer stars. Likewise, Kick Off 97 and Striker 96 are slow, ugly and unplayable. All Star Soccer's 'witty' commentary is fun but only for the first 45 minutes, by which time you'll be looking for footy thrills elsewhere. You won't find 'em with Super Football Champ though, 'cos it plays as bad as it looks. As for 4-4-2, this no-hoper lacks good graphics, solid gameplay... It's so dire it would've been better if the CD was left blank. You're all relegated!

The competition cranks up a gear, with only the best going through to the next round. Both FIFAs 96 and 97 are showing their age and lack of finesse, so are sent off for an early bath. Actua Soccer's awkward controls means it doesn't have a chance against the more skilful footy games, and its basic gameplay just doesn't match the flair of other competi-tors. Kick Off World, well it's exactly like the footy games of five years ago, so is automatically knocked out for being so unoriginal. Bastard. Soccer 97 plays pretty well but is just too damn ugly to go through, while the dated player rosters of Adidas Power International 97 and Actua Soccer: Club Edition mean they aren't good enough to go through, even though they're OK to play. That's it, onto the quarters.

FIFA 96 doesn't have a chance against the newer fotty games 2 Kick Off World: out this month, looks five years old. Out! Soccer 97: goodbye

QUARTER FINALS

Actua Soccer 2 Vs Olympic Soccer

Actua Soccer 2 takes an early lead, using the sheer speed of its gameplay to get one over its rival. Olympic pulls one back, relying on good, solid gameplay to go all the way. But it's the outright quality of Actua 2, along with the great graphics, which gives it another goal, making the final score 2-1.

World League Soccer Vs Power Soccer 2

It's a battle between brawn and ball control. Power Soccer 2 favours brute force, hoofing the ball right at the keeper in the hope it'll cross the line. It doesn't work though, and World League counters with some of the most fluid footy your 'Station has ever seen, taking an early lead. It's not long before WLS scores another as well, thanks to spot-on gameplay and stacks of well cool moves. Get in there!

■ World League Soccer: fast, fluid, fantastic

■ Power Soccer 2: basic gameplay ain't good

ISS Pro Vs FIFA: RTWC 98

ISS looks the business so it's 1-0 straight off, just because FIFA is so goddam jerky. RTWC is much faster though, plus there's a lot more plays to master, which brings the score level. However, FIFA's keepers are well dodgy, so it's no surprise ISS Pro knocks in the winning goal thanks to its solid skills.

■ ISS Pro: looks tasty, plays great too

■ FIFA: RTWC: tossy keepers equal bad mistakes

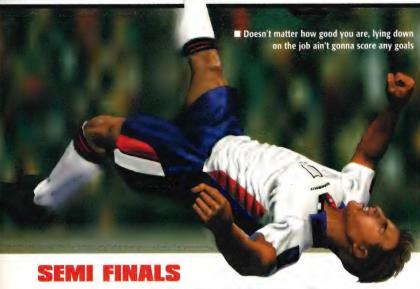

World Cup 98 Vs Three Lions

Three Lions' England line-up never finds its feet against the official World Cup game and is outclassed right from the opening whistle. Its crap targeting system means it can never get a decent shot at goal, the shots saved by the keeper or flying wide even when it's up close. The chugging gameplay also allows the much faster, more sophisticated World Cup 98 to run rings around it. It's a goddam whitewash.

■ World Cup 98: great tactics, good moves

■ Three Lions: arse targeting system

Actua Soccer 2 Vs World League Soccer

It's a close-run thing, with both teams matching the pace and skill of one another. However, some of Actua's dodgy camera angles mean it's sometimes difficult to control the players, leaving a gap for World League Soccer to sneak past. Again, WLS uses its massive amount of moves to dazzle its rival, finishing off with a classy cross and connecting volley. Goal!

■ Actua Soccer 2: dead fast but lacks real skill

■ WLS: really quick and full of flair

ISS Pro Vs World Cup 98

Again ISS Pro attacks using the same old strategy, relying on its ever-solid gameplay to knock one in the net. Again it works! World Cup 98's got some tricks up its sleeves though, using the simple but effective tactical options to outwit the opposition and draw level. The decider comes when ISS Pro tries to match World Cup 98 for speed but fails miserably.

You know what's best at the moment, but there are loads more footy games warming

Viva Football looks well promising and boasts modern-day teams as well as classic World Cup sides. Libero Grande is an arcade-style footy thang, while Sensible Soccer 2000 is a more traditional soccer sim. It looks good though, although Super Match Soccer doesn't. The last time we saw SMS it was slow and unplayable, but ook out for the full lowdown next month. Oh, and there's FIFA 99. Whoopee..

FINAL

World League Soccer Vs World Cup 98

This is it! Both games are fast, but only one is the official World Cup licence, so World Cup 98 draws first blood. 1-0! WLS isn't far behind though, drawing on its extra bit of speed and dynamite plays to draw level.

After 90 minutes of scintillating play the teams are inseparable so it goes to extra time. By the end of the extra period, neither team has managed to take the lead, so it's down to penalties! Again, it's close, but World Cup 98 trails when a shot flies wide because of its jerky graphics, leaving WLS to slot in the last using its awesome gameplay to guide it home Googaal!

PRICE COMPANY REVIEWED SCORE VERDICT

Shafted by Resident Evil 2? Don't. Here's the ultimate guide: Leon and Claire's A and B scenarios — complete with maps on pages 65-67 — all the secret weapons and hidden characters. All you need is here...

LEON: SCENARIO A

MEAN STREETS

Make your way carefully past the zombie hordes, down the alley and into the gun shop. Enjoy the fine acting. When it's over, search the shop and locate two boxes of bullets. Zombies pile through the window and make a meal of the gun shop owner. If you kill all the zombies, you can get the shotgun from his body. (Claire gets the bowgun.) If you're a filthy coward, you can just flee via the back door.

In the alley behind the shop, head along and past the fence separating you from a bunch of zombies. Carry on until you reach the dead end of the shop owner's van. You'll find more bullets there. At this point, the zombies behind the fence will break through. You'll have to kill them as the alley is too narrow to dodge them. Head through the now-open fence and through the door at the end of the basketball court.

Carry on through the alley, over an overpass, climbing over a box at the bottom of the overpass stairs. There are bullets in a bin by the box. Run to the open street area, dodging zombies. Enter the wrecked bus. Get the bullets from the seat. There will be two zombies to deal with. Leave the bus by the door opposite the driver. From here, it's only a short run to the police station, through the park, dodging zombies all the way. There's a green herb in a plant pot outside the police station.

RACCOON CITY POLICE STATION

You have to push the smaller statues so they both face toward the big statue and cover the floor panels. The red jewel will be yours. Go through the door to the right of the statue and go down the hallway, taking out two cop zombies on your way. Enter the first door on the left, the STARS office. On Chris's desk is his diary and the unicorn medal. Get the first aid spray from the wall. In the locker is a shotgun for Leon and a launcher for Claire. (Outside the office, Claire will meet Sherry.)

To your right is the operation report file. (When playing as Claire, you don't do this bit yet. Skip to the start of box 7.)

Go into the small room by the blackboard and use your lighter on the fireplace. Doing this will reveal the first red gem.

Also in the room are bullets hidden in the right corner. Get them, head out of the room and carry along the hallway till you reach the stairs. Kill the zombies and climb the stairs. Now go along to where the statues are.

In the hallway is a dead cop. Examine him to find some bullets. Further down the hall is a pool of blood on the floor.

If you picked up the shotgun from the gun store earlier, equip it now. Approach the pool of blood and kill the licker that suddenly drops down. Aim low and fill it with lead.

Pick up the green herbs to heal yourself now if you're feeling a bit low, or as needed later in the game. Now head to the briefing room, room 6.

In the main hall, get the bullets and ribbon from the reception desk. Go through the unlocked door in the hall and speak to the wounded officer. He gives you a key card, which you can use on the computer at reception. It unlocks the other doors in the main hall. Go through the double doors to room 2 and you'll find a police memo. (In this room, Claire can use the lockpicks to get a first aid spray from the desk.) Head through the door next to the window, behind the wooden partitions.

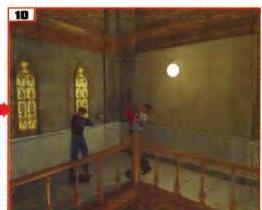

Take the unicorn medal to the fountain in the main hallway, room 1. On your way, stay clear of the boarded windows...

Use the medal on the fountain, releasing the spade key. Head to room 4. Go inside and explore till you find the patrol report and ink ribbons. Push the small steps along to the tall cabinet, climb them and get the crank from the top. Exit the room and head back to the second floor, by the statues.

Head past the statues and through the door. Go to the library, room 15. (Claire can unlock the desk outside for ammo.) Then climb the stairs and along the walkway. The floor will give way, dropping you to a small room. Examine the picture on the wall and press the button. The bookcases have red buttons, which move them when pressed. Move the middle two bookcases to the right once. Go to the small room for the bishop plug. (Claire gets the serpent stone.)

Exit the library via the double doors and make your way to room 16. Activate the ladder on the banister so you can climb up here from the main hall, saving time in later trips. There are zombies on the walkway, but they're easy to dodge.

In the room, search around till you find secretary's diary A and a key for the desk drawer in room 2, first floor. Exit via the opposite door. Go to area 21, stairs outside the building.

 Instant Expert: Resident Evil 2 gutted!

Go down the steps and enter the door. Examine the corpse there for bullets. In the hallway, enter the open doorway on the right. There are zombies here, so kill 'em or dodge 'em.

In this room, enter the small room to the left.

Inside you'll find herbs behind the desk and a safe. To open the safe, use the combination 2236. Inside is ammo and the station map. Search the main room for ink ribbons. Exit via the double doors at the far end of the room.

Inside is the rook plug and cord. (Claire gets the eagle stone.) Watch the window... Head to the basement, through the door marked 13 on the map. Get the herbs and use the cord on the power box. Head downstairs, but check shelves for shells. Kill the three dogs at the bottom of the stairs. Take the first right door. Inside, pick up green herbs and the map. Head for the power control panel, and use the lever sequence up, down, up, down, up, like in the screenshot.

Kill the zombies in here, then search for the film which you develop in room 7, and shotgun shells. (Claire also gets the explosive in this room.). Exit through the other door to the office with the wounded officer. Kill him. On the desk in the small room is the heart key. (Claire gets the detonator from the desk. Combine it with the explosive.) If you search the main room you'll find bullets in the locker and a memo to Leon on the desk. Now head to room 9.

Make your way to the burning helicopter outside the police station, room 18. On the way, you'll have to fight a load of crows. Head down the stairs and enter the door around the corner, taking you into a power room. Here you'll find a save point, bullets and a valve handle. Make sure you have the handle and return to the burning 'copter. Nip behind the open fence by the door and use the handle on the water pressure valve. The tank will rupture, extinguishing the fire. Examine the 'copter for bullets.

Now make for the area of the house where the 'copter's smashed through the wall, marked 19 on the map. With the flames out, you can get past it and enter the door on the right. In the room is the diamond key and two stone busts protruding from the wall. Place a red jewel in each of the two busts, revealing the king plug. (Claire receives a stone here.) Also in the room are some hidden shells. Now use the diamond key to enter the evidence room, room 5.

THE SEWER

Now go to room 22, the car park. You'll meet Ada. Push the van away from the door. Follow Ada to the cell and watch the cutscene. Examine the shelf on the right for the manhole cover opener.

Go to room 23, where the manhole is. Kill the dogs and get the herbs in one of the kennels. Open the manhole and head down into the sewers. Carry on through and dodge the spiders. You'll leave the sewer corridor after a few screens. Head for the vent in the wall.

Now you get to play as Ada. Take the first right and head for the left hand door. You'll have two dogs to kill. Take the sewer map on the wall. Go into a room with a pit in it. Hop down into the pit, left of the control panel, and push the boxes into a line, making a bridge over the pit. Climb back up to the panel and use it. Walk across the boxes and get the club key. Now go through the other door in the area with the dogs in. Take the lift down and find the shells. Then go back to the vent in the wall, where you first took over as Ada.

As Leon again, head to room 11. On the way you'll have to deal with two lickers. Inside the room you'll find the magnum, watchman's diary and ammo. Now head to room 10. Ignite the furnace on the far side of the room and turn the taps in the order 12, 13, 11. This will cause the cogwheel to fall from the painting on the wall. Grab it and search the room for another film and a first aid spray, by the desk. Head to the third floor, via the walkway in the library, room 15.

Enter the only other door on the third floor and use the crank in the square hole in the wall.

Climb the stairs and use the cogwheel on the gears. Press the button to open a hidden door. Behind it is the knight plug. (Claire gets the blue stone piece.) Go down the shaft of the hidden door.

In the room you land in, head for the jails and watch the gory cutscene. Yer-uck!

Head to room 25 and fight the William-Tyrant. Use the handgun on the small parasites and the shotgun on the tyrant.

With the Tyrant dead, go to the door and use the four chess piece keys to open it. Make your way through the sewers to a big room and get the ink ribbons, sewer manager file, bullets and a first aid spray. Use the lift in the corner to exit.

After a cutscene, you'll become Ada again. Follow the scientist, taking the map on the wall. Follow the scientist up the ladder and into the vent shaft, running past the insects. When you catch up with the scientist, there'll be another cutscene. Now head down the ladder, just outside of the room, and you'll become Leon again.

Go down the hallway and find the wolf coin. It's on the right of the sewer, in an alcove with a corpse in. Now go to room 28, dodging all the spiders. Use the valve handle on the lift lowering mechanism. Once across use the handle again to raise the lift for a later crossing. There are herbs, shells and a save point here.

Head down the corridor till the alligator attacks. As it comes up the corridor, activate the cylinder on the left wall. It'll fall off and the gator will grab it in his mouth. When it does, shoot it, exploding the cylinder and killing it.

Go down the walkway to the zombies. Paste 'em and head left, searching the body for shotgun parts. (Claire gets the spark gun here.) Follow the passage back, through a door and climb the ladder. In the room you'll find ink ribbons, ammo and a spray. Exit via the door. Search the big room for bullets and a map. Go into the tractor housing. Inside you'll find ammo and a key. Use the key on the panel in front of the tractor and press the button. The tyrant attacks, so use your best weapon and keep moving.

Head along the bridge and go to the right side of the tram. Turn on the power switch on the control panel, activating the tram. Enter it. The bastard Tyrant returns and shoves his arms through the ceiling. Don't waste precious bullets shooting the arms, just let Ada do it for you! (The Tyrant doesn't attack here in Claire's

When the carriage comes to a halt, exit and head left. Use the lighter on the flare gun to find the weapon box key. Grab it and exit.

Head through the door the gator came through. Search the rubbish for ribbons. Talk to Ada and you'll enter a service room. (Claire meets Sherry and gets the first silver coin.) Get the eagle coin and sewer manager's diary located in a small room up the ramps. Head right and use the valve handle on the machine by the massive fan and climb past the fan and through the airshaft.

Head to area 27. Use both eagle and wolf coins on the panel on the right of the waterfall. Enter the door you can now reach.

THE LAB

Go back into the tractor housing and watch the scene. Explore the room you end up in for useful items and head out to room 35.

Get the fuse case from the trolley and use it at the machine opposite.

Take the fuse to area 30 and use it on the power box there. Head to room 32. Get the memos. Go to the computer and turn on the anti-BOW sprinklers.

In the locker is a flamethrower. (Claire gets launcher rounds here.) Use your ever-trusty lighter on the oil on the floor by the plant vines.

Climb through the vent shaft and kill the lickers. Get the ammo and ink ribbons. Leave the room and open the metal door down the corridor and fry the plants. Head through the next door. Now go down the ladder, getting the herbs. Kill three lickers and head to room 38. Search beneath the monitors for the map. Go to room 37 and use the weapon box key on the locker to get the magnum parts. (Claire gets ammo.)

Also, get the first aid spray from the small table. Enter the lab and kill the zombies, getting the red lab card from a desk. Head for room 36.

Kill the massive moth in the room and slaughter the nasty insects on the computer with your normal gun.

Use the computer and enter the password 'GUEST'. Head to room 34, killing the lickers on the way there. Enter and kill the zombies and turn on the light switch.

Get the first aid spray, magnum rounds the MO disk in the room. As you exit, you'll run into Annette, receiving the G-virus.

Head down to area 39 and use the MO disk on the terminal by the big door. Head on in.

Now for the final fight. Tool up the magnum and shotgun and get those first aid sprays at the ready. Activate the lift in the room and the Tyrant will drop.

Run round the area and shoot the Tyrant from a safe distance, it has a long reach. After enough shots, it'll turn into a bastard hard dog thing. It leaps on you from above, so watch the tops of the cabinets. Run around like a maniac and keep shooting low.

With the Tyrant dead, head into the lift and enjoy the end sequence. Now for the B scenario!

CLAIRE: SCENARIO A

DON'T SWEAT IT

You may have noticed Claire's A walkthrough is shorter than Leon's. Seeing as Leon's A scenario is the same as Claire's in most places, all you have to do is follow Leon's scenario till this guide tells you to follow it here instead where Claire's scenario differs. Right?

First off, follow Leon's guide to the end of box 9. After getting the stone in the library go to room 16. In room 16, search for the lighter, secretary's diary and ink ribbons.

Go back to room 6 and enter the small room by the blackboard. Use the lighter to burn the painting, giving you the second red jewel. Get the bullets in the right corner of the room. Now go to area 21 and follow Leon's guide from the start of box 11, following it to the start of box 15, just after you get the eagle stone.

After you get the eagle stone, go to room 19 and combine the detonator and explosive. Blow open the door and go through. Go through the other door and you'll meet Sherry. Go back to the office and get the key from the desk. Head to room 13 and go through the door. Use the cord on the box on the wall. Head down the stairs and kill the dogs. Take the first right, and enter the power room. Inside, get the herbs and basement map. Go to the reserve control panel and enter the sequence up, down, up, down, up,

Now exit, head left and go through the dirty door at the end of the corridor, down a left-hand corner. Go down the manhole, killing the dogs, and enter the storage door. Exit the room and you'll run into Sherry. After a cutscene you'll take over control of her. Head to the lift and go up. There are dogs patrolling, so you'll need to be fast on your feet.

Fight the Tyrant. Use the handgun on the small parasites first, then use the grenades on the Tyrant. When it's dead, go back and get Sherry where you left her.

Then head back to where you fought the Tyrant and push the button to lower the ladder. Go down into the sewers with Sherry

There'll be a cutscene and you'll get the chance to take control of her.

Combine the blue stone pieces and take all three stones to the chief's office, room 17. Go behind the desk and press the button beneath the painting, causing it to move. Place the three stones in the three slots, opening a door. Go through it and, in the new room, get mail to the chief and go down the lift. Head along the corridor and through the door. After a cutscene, get the rounds and go down the ladder.

Go to room 24, killing the lickers there. Get the red key card from a cabinet. Kill the corpses that re-animate. Leave and head down the hallway to the weapon storage room. Inside, find the bullets, equipment bag and submachine gun. Now head back to room 11 and follow Leon's guide from the start of box 18, following it to the middle of box 19, just after you get the blue stone piece

Go left and head straight for the door. Inside, take the sewer map on the wall and go to the room with the pit in. Hop into the pit and push the boxes against the back wall to form a bridge across the gap. Use the panel by the pit.

Cross the bridge and get the club key. Enter the other door in the area and go down the lift, searching for grenade rounds. Go back to the main lift, and regain control of Claire.

Enter the first room you find and exit it via an air vent, dodging the zombie there. You'll emerge in a pipe. Dodge some insects and pick up the silver coin at the end. After a cutscene you become Claire again. Head further down the sewer and enter the first door you find, getting the herbs. In the room is a save point, a chest and a memo. If you head down the ladder you'll also find ammo and a first aid spray. Go back up to the main room and use the lift to go down

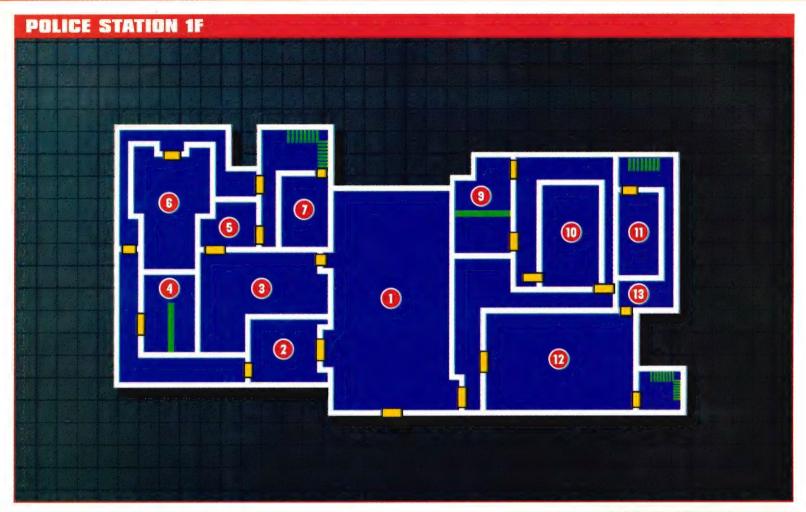

When the lift stops, get the map on the wall and head into the sewer. Head up into the screen, till you find an alcove in the wall, to the side of you. Climb on in and get the flame rounds at one end, by the corpse. It's not really grave-robbing 'cos you need their ammo.

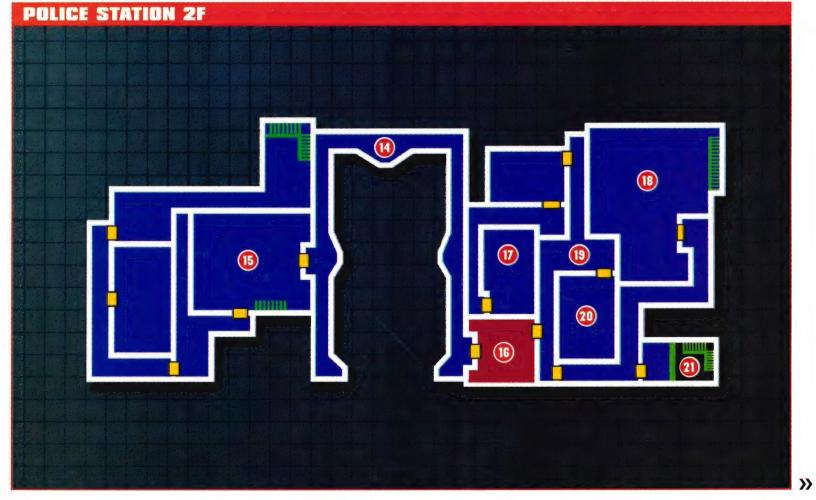

Take the danger-filled trip to room 28 and follow Leon's guide from the start of box 21, following it to box 27, just after you enter 'GUEST' on the computer.

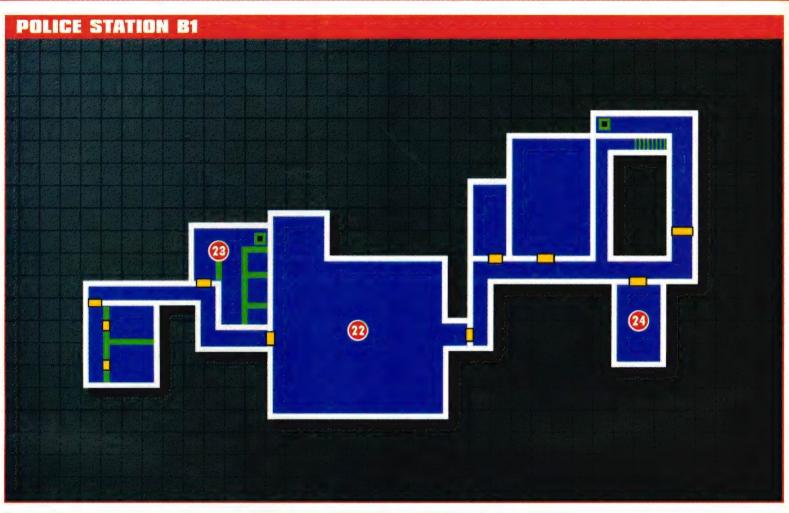

Go to area 34 and use the keycard on the door. Find the serum canister, kill the zombies and turn on the lights. In the corner of the room is the MO disc. Go to the computer and use the serum canister, then hit the switch at the back of the room. Go back to the terminal and get the processed serum. Head back to room 37. Go to the machine on the left and use the serum canister. The machine will process it. Head to area 39, use the MO disk on the terminal and follow Leon's guide from the start of the final box, 28.

CLAIRE: SCENARIO

RACCOON CITY POLICE STATION

Leg it past the zombies and through the gate on the right. Take a right into the small room with the cabin key in. Grab it and dodge the zombies. running to the door on the other side. Enter it. get the bullets. Leave the room by the other door and head upstairs, dodging zombies. After the cutscene, go through the door opposite the 'copter wreck. Head down the hall, killing crows. Get bullets from the corpse. Go to the balcony, marked 14, getting goodies from room 16.

Kill or dodge the zombies and examine the wall by the library doors. Get the unicorn medal, Go down the emergency ladder and use the medal on the statue in the main hall, getting you the spade key. Search the reception area for a grenade launcher and ribbons. (Leon gets the shotgun.) Now go to room 12, via the stairs marked 21. There are herbs there. Examine the corpse for bullets. The room is full of zombies, so kill as few as you can and dodge the rest.

In the small office is the safe, opened with 2236. Inside is ammo and a map, as well as a herb behind the desk. (Leon gets bullets.) In the main room is the valve handle. Go to the burning 'copter, in area 18. Use the valve handle to extinguish the fire and search the 'copter for ammo. Go back to the hallway and prepare to meet the Terminator, so called 'cos he won't bloody die! Waste him with the grenade

Go to area 19 and use the detonator on the door by the 'copter. Go through the door and meet the chief in a cutscene. Exit through the other door in the room and go along to a small room. Hit the lights there and find Sherry and the secretary's diary B.

Get the bullets from the chest and go back to the chief's room. Get the heart key and diary. Now head for the basement, through the door marked 13.

Go back to room 20 and use the jewels on the busts on the wall. Get the stone piece. (Leon gets the king plug.) Go to room 9, kill the licker inside and get the first aid spray and eagle stone. Now go to room 5. Inside you'll find bolts, film and the explosive. Go through the other door to an office. In the small room on the left, kill the zombie cop and get the detonator. Combine the explosive and detonator. Search the main room for some more goodies.

launcher and check him for ammo. Head to room 20, and kill the licker.

Head up the stairs and arrange the statues, like before. Get the Red jewel. Go into the STARS office. The diamond key is on the desk and the bowgun is in the locker. (Leon gets the key later and the magnum from the locker.) Exit the room and save Sherry. Open the desk for bullets. (Leon gets the diamond key when Sherry goes through the hole.) Enter the library and, like before, fall down and arrange the bookcases. Get the stone. (Leon gets another chess key.)

Inside, get the blue card key and take it to the computer in the main hall. Use it and head to room 2. Kill the zombies and get the memo and the first aid spray from the desk. (Leon can't open the desk.) Go to room 3 and get the patrol report and the lighter, using the steps to get it. (Leon gets a first aid spray.) Now go to room 6. Get the operation report and the red jewel in the back room by lighting the fire. There are bullets in the right corner of the room.

THE SEWER

Head down the stairs and waste the zombies. Enter the first door on the right, with a map inside and the power controls. Enter the sequence up, down, up, down, up. As if you needed reminding. From there, take a left and go through the door at the end of the corridor into a dirty alley.

Kill the dogs and go down the ladder. Use the storage room to save. Exit and run into Sherry again. You'll now play as her.

It's the same as Claire's first scenario: run past the zombies and go through the door on the right to the pit room.

Move the crates to form a bridge, use the panel to raise the water and use the bridge to get the key.

You can also go through an opposite door in the area with the zombies and get some ammo. Return to where you took over as Sherry and regain control of Claire.

After the scene, head to room 24, kill the lickers inside and get the key card. Use the red card key on the door of the nearby weapon storage room. Inside, get the ammo.

Now head to the car park, marked 22 on the map. Kill the dogs. Enter the door by the moved cop van.

Inside the kennel you'll find the crank near the manhole cover. There's also ammo by the cells

Now go upstairs to room 11, getting the acid rounds and the nightwatchman's diary. Now go to room 10

Get the first aid spray from the main desk. Ignite the furnace with the lighter and turn the faucets in the order 12, 13, 11. Get the cogwheel that falls. As you do, the Terminator bursts through the wall. You could fight him now, but you'd be better off running. Like a wuss.

Run out of the room and, down the hallway, the Terminator will crash through another wall.

Fill him with lead and search him for ammo.

Head along the bridge and use the panel to get the tram back up. Enter it and travel down. (In Leon's scenario, claws will attack here.) Use the lighter on the flare gun, and get the weapon box key. Head through the door and waste the zombies. Go left at the intersection and get the spark gun from the corpse. (Leon gets shotgun parts.) Head back the way you came and through a door. There are herbs at the right of the next intersection and a ladder to the left. Climb the ladder.

In the room is a spray and ammo. After the scene, exit and search the big garage area for a map and bullets. Use the lift to the side of where the tractor housing should be. Go left through the door and along a corridor to a room with monitors. Get the panel key on the console. Examine the monitors for a shock! Kill it and search for ammo when you're done. Go back up to the room where Sherry (or Ada) is.

Head to the third floor of the station, via the library stairs. In the belltower, use the crank on the hole in the wall. Climb the stairs and use the cogwheel in the machine, opening the door. Get the final stone piece. (Leon gets the knight plug.) With all three stones, go back to the chief's office, marked 17. The Terminator appears. Kill him and carry on to the office. At the office, push the button by the painting and use the three stones there. Enter the new passageway, getting mail to the chief. Go down the lift and along to a room. After the scene, search the room for rounds. Head down the ladder.

Time for a battle with the William-Tyrant. Do you run from him, cacking your smalls? No! Unload the grenade rounds into the Tyrant and keep dodging. After he leaves, go back and get Sherry. Return to where you just fought the Tyrant and press the button to lower the ladder. Climb up and watch the cutscene.

Head along the sewer, into an alcove and through the door. You'll find the fax and a first

After a cutscene, go down on the lift. Meet Leon and head right, down a corridor by him, getting the map on the wall.

Go through the door to the sewer and enter the alcove with two dead guys in. One has rounds and the other a silver medal. Head to area 28, dodging spiders, and use the valve handle to lower the bridge. Cross it and raise the bridge for later. Get the herbs. Go to where the 'gator attacked in scenario A. Go into the rubbish room and climb the ladder. In the room above, go up the ramp and get the fax and the second silver medal. Use the valve handle on the fan and head through it. Go to area 27 and use the coins on the machine by the waterfall. Go through the door.

Go to the machine that Sherry (or Ada) is at and use the control panel key on it.

The tractor housing arrives. Activate the housing and climb inside it. Once again The Tyrant will attack.

Defeat him with hard weapons. Keep on the move, as this Tyrant jumps at you from above. When that's done, go back to the tractor. The platform lift will overheat.

Exit and go through the vent on the platform. Follow the corridor round till you get to a big room. Make sure you get the herbs by the chest.

 Instant Expert: Resident Evil 2 gutted!

THE LAB

Move the crate onto the lift. Push the crate off the lift and up the nearest walkway. Put it next to the other crates, to climb later. Head back along the walkway and search the dead scientist. Go down the lift and press the switch at the end of the walkway. Go back up to where you came through the vent. Enter the lift and use the panel. Exit, kill the zombies. Go to the storage room for ammo and spray. Now to room 35.

Get the first aid and fuse case, using the case on the opposite console. Take the new fuse to area 30 and use it. Now go to room 32. Grab memos and ammo. The vine will be gone, so go through the shaft. Grab ammo and ribbons. Exit and head back along the corridor, opening the metal door. Go through the door the triffids were guarding. Kill another one, get herbs, go down the ladder.

Now go all the way back to where you stacked the crates earlier, using the lift at area 40. Climb the crates to the higher walkway and use the P room key on the door. Make your way back and watch the cutscene. Then go back to area 30, getting Sherry and the master key. (Leon has to go to the storage room in area 40 to find her.) Go in the lift and use the master key on the panel at the back.

Make your way to room 38, killing three lickers in the corridor on the way. Get the map from the monitors and then go to room 37. Use the weapon box key on the locker and get the rounds. (Leon gets magnum parts.) Also get the first aid spray from the small table. Enter the lab, killing any zombies in your way. Get the P room key from a desk. Leave the room and you'll eventually meet Annette in a cutscene.

THE FINAL CONFLICT

Head inside the train and, at the back near the chest and save point, you'll find the platform key.

Stock up on healing and powerful weapons. Also, keep two inventory slots free. Trust us, you'll need 'em free for later. Grab the key and leave the train. Go left towards the double gates and go over the overpass. Go to the blinking panel and get the plugs from the terminal. They take up two spaces, y'see. And when those two spaces are empty again, keep 'em empty...

Go under the stairs, following the arrow on the floor and through the doors. Use the joint plugs in the slots to restore power. Now fight the Terminator. Keep running in a zig-zag motion to dodge the lunge attacks he makes. After several grenade hits, a rocket launcher appears. It takes up two inventory slots. Blow the Terminator to hell with it. Go to the train and head in the direction of the zombies. Use the panel to open the train doors. Go into the front of the train and use the lever to start it up.

Now for the big ass scrap. After a her-uge and cool movie sequence, you'll have to fight the final incarnation of the William Birkin-Tyrant. He may look hard, being all teeth and all, but he's really a bit of a pussy. All you have to do is stand back and let rip with your 'launcher rounds. If you have a spare rocket launcher shot, use that. When it's dead, enjoy the proper end sequence, leaving enough loose ends for a Resident Evil 3! Now get going and find the two secret characters...

LEON: SCENARIO B

GO FOR IT

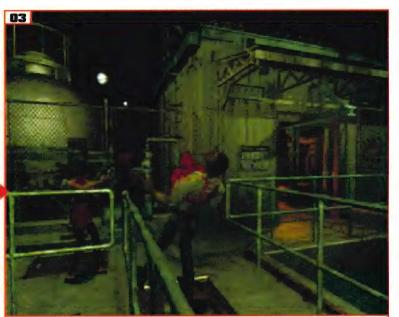

As before, the B scenarios of Leon and Claire are very similar. All you have to do is follow Claire's B guide till it tells you here to follow the Leon guide.

From the off, follow Claire's guide up till box 6, just after you get the king plug. Now go to room 3. Inside you'll find shells, film and access to the room with the heart key in. Kill the zombie cop there and get the heart key from the desk. Search the main room for ammo and a small key. Use the key on the desk by the library for the handgun parts.

Go to the interrogation rooms 9 on the map. Inside you'll find a spray and the rook plug. Now head to the basement, reached via room 13. Go downstairs. Enter the first door on the left. Inside, you'll find a map and the power supply machine. The power sequence is, up, down, up, down, up. From there, go to the car park, room 22. You'll meet Ada again.

Push the cop van out of the way of the door and head inside. Go to the cells. Pick up the manhole cover opener and head down to the sewers by the dog kennels. Kill the dogs. Head through the sewer, dodging the spiders. You'll run into Ada again and play as her. Run past the zombies to the room with the pit in, getting the map on the way. Make a bridge with the boxes, activate the water and get the key. Get the ammo from the other room nearby. Go back to the vent and play as Leon again.

Now go to room 10, following Claire's guide from the start of box 11, following it to box 12, just after you get the knight plug. After you have the plug, go down the shaft. Find Ben in the cells and watch the cutscene. After this, go back to the sewers and to room 25. You'll fight the William-Tyrant. He attacks with a length of pipe and moves as slowly as a pissed-up pensioner. Just keep shooting and dodging him.

One useful trick when you're being chased by the parasite thingies is to simply leave the room. When you enter it again, they'll be out of your way. When you've killed the filthy Tyrant, use the four chess plugs on the door, opening it. You'll meet Ada on the other side. Go through the door to the sewer, then through a door in an alcove to the left. In the room, get the fax and ammo, then use the lift to exit. There'll be a cutscene of Leon getting pasted. Aww, bless. With Leon out of action for a while, you take over playing as curvy Ada.

Now go to room 11 and get the ammo here and the diary. Now you can head to the chief's office, room 17, killing or dodging all the undead on

At the office, get the diary and head through the other door and down the corridor. In the small room you'll find secretary's diary B and the crank inside the chest. The Terminator makes an entrance. Shoot him and search him.

Claire will call Leon and tell him to get to the Chief's office. First thing to do is go to room 24. Kill the dogs in the car park.

In the autopsy room, kill the two lickers before you get the keycard. Use the keycard on the weapons room door, just down from the autopsy room.

Inside, you'll find the submachine gun, if Claire left it in scenario A, and some ammo.

Follow the scientist through the vent to the control room. After the cutscene, go down the ladder outside the room. You'll play as Leon.

Head into the sewer, and, dodging the spiders, go to the alcove with the corpses in. Get the coin and key, then go to room 28 and follow Claire's guide from the start of box 14, right to the end of the game.

t Expert: Resident Evil

TOP SECRETS!

WARNING!

Reading this may spoil the game for you by revealing the cool secrets. If you want the game to remain a mystery, stop reading now. We warned ya.

COOL COSSIES

You want the special new costumes for Leon and Claire? Here's how: start a new game on normal difficulty. Play the first part through as normal, but don't pick up anything. When you reach the gate that leads to the cop shop, go down the stairs to the tunnel. There you'll find the mega-hard zombie Brad, from the first Resident Evil. Head into the station and pick up bullets you can use to kill him. Examine his body for the special key. Use it in the darkroom in the police station, room 7 on the map. Leon gets two extra costumes and Claire gets one extra as well as the Colt SAA gun!

1 The zombie has the key. Waste it 2 Leon in new cossie 1. Complete with cool gun posture 3 Leon's second new cossie. Bit drippy really 4 Claire modelling the new line in hot chick

RANKING SYSTEM

Most cheats are dependent on what grade you get in the game. Here's how to get the grade you need:

A grade: Beat the game in under 3 hours and don't use any first aid sprays. Herbs are allowed

B grade: Simply beat the game in under 3 hours.

C grade: Beat the game in 5 to 7 hours.

D grade: just finish the damn game Your grade will be lowered by one if you use any special weapons (ie; flamethrower or spark gun) or save more than 12 times.

Oh, by the way: to get all these cheats to work, you have to finish the game in normal mode. Did you think this'd be easy?

GUNS. GUNS. GUNS

If you finish the game in two-and-a-half hours (or less) on scenario A, and get a rank of A or B, you'll get the rocket launcher with infinite rounds

On scenario B, you have two routes. If you finish the game with an A or B ranking in under three hours, you'll get the infinite submachine gun. If you finish the game with an A or B ranking in under twoand-a-half hours you'll get an infinite rocket launcher and the Gatling gun

■ The submachine gun. Budda-budda-budda

■ The Gatling gun. Like in Terminator 2

HIDDEN CHARACTER: HUNK

Hunk is an Umbrella SWAT member trapped in the sewers. Remember the movie sequence where the Tyrant kills all his mates? To play his scenario, beat the A and B scenarios of Leon and Claire with an A grade. Hunk's mission is to get to the rooftop from the sewers. This ain't too hard, as Hunk has some guns to his name. You'd better get dodging, though, 'cos he's only got a limited amount and there's no stuff to pick up on the way. It's as hard as a ready-to-go porn star, but stick with it!

■ Hi, I'm Hunk. As you can see, I'm not that hunky, but I pack some mean guns...

■ For sheer, unadulterated violence, the Hunk scenario is a right blast. In the head

HIDDEN CHARACTER: TOFU

Tofu is, well, a lump of tofu. If you want to play as this veggie meat substitute, you'll have to bust your balls. You'll have to beat six scenarios with an A grade, That's scenario A and B of Leon and Claire, and then their A scenarios again. Tofu's mission is, like Hunk, to get to the rooftops from the sewers. It's tough as week-old shit, though, 'cos Tofu only has a knife!

HIDDEN FILM D

If you want all the film pictures, you'll need this 'un. Here's how to get it: in the STARS room, go to the big desk at the end of the room, as in the screenshot below. Take a deep breath, now, 'cos you have to examine the desk around fifty times. When you've done that, film D will be entered into your inventory. It's a piccy of Rebecca, from the first Resident Evil game. Awww!

■ Examine this desk fifty times. Yeah, it's dull, but you have to bloody work for it, man

■ And here's the reward. Lurvely Rebecca in a cossie to excite all Jap businessmen

HUNK/TOFU GUIDE

WARNING!

If you don't wanna know about the secret Resident Evil 2 characters, stop reading now, dammit. However, if you're having a 'mare getting Hunk or Tofu through the legions of the undead, help is at hand...

You start in the sewer. Go up the stairs to the first room. Kill the zombie with her back to you, then the one in the middle of the walkway. Run to the corner of the room, luring zombies toward you. Then run past 'em, using the walkway to dodge, and exit through the door. In the next room, run along the left wall, past the zombie, then zig-zag to the exit door.

The spiders here poison you, so run through the sewer along the left hand wall. Go up the ladder. As you enter the next room, run ahead. The dogs should jump but miss. Run left outta the door. In the next room, there are two zombies on the floor. If you kill 'em, let one grab you so you can crush their heads. Running past the other zombies in the hall is easy. Exit the room.

In the next room, there's a dog to the left, one in front and one further away. You can dodge them all. Run left to dodge the first two dogs, then right to avoid the third dog. There are loads of crows in the next room, but handgun shots or knife swipes sort them out. If you run past them, run in a zig-zag pattern, making you harder to hit. The next room has three dogs in. You can shoot them, or hug the right hand wall. The dogs should miss you and you can get safely to the exit.

In the upstairs hall, wait for the Terminator to appear. Lure him towards you then circle, running down the hallway to the door. In the next room, dodge the first two zombies and run over the legs on the inert zombies to dodge them and exit. In the next room, stay still.

The next hall contains three lickers. Hug the walls and the lickers should not do too much damage to you as you get to the exit. There are two triffids in the hallway. You may want to kill them with the guns. To run past them, the best way is to zig-zag so the acid spit misses you. As you enter the next room, run right to avoid the plants. Circle round them and get to the stairs.

In the office room, there are loadsa zombies. Walk forward till the camera angle changes, so you can see the zombies. You can dodge round the desks when they start to close in. The next room is the main hall. Get the bullets and head to the next room. There are two spiders here. Wait behind the pillar and run in the opposite direction to the spiders.

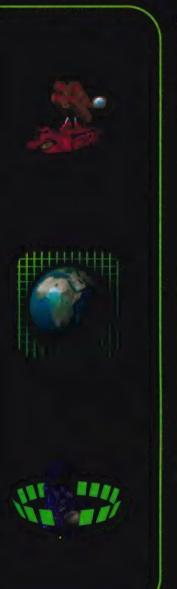

Face the long hallway and run when the licker gets close. Keep running and head right, to the library door, dodging the lickers. Continue to the balcony. Hunk can kill the plants on the balcony. Tofu has to hug walls and wait for the plants to spit before running past. In the next room. Hunk should use the shotgun to tackle zombies. Tofu should run past, dodging the rest and get to the door.

In the next room, run left past the zombies. Killing them may be easier with Hunk. Tofu should get behind the 'copter shell and knife the zombies there as they can't reach you. In the next room, you have to fight the Terminator. The best way is to take the hit and run past him. You could try to kill him, but it isn't advised. Unless you like shooting at a tank with a spud gun. Get to safety and, er, try not to curdle, eh?

1. BRAKING

Not as simple as it sounds. Watch road conditions and pick the right spot. If you apply the brakes hard when you're turning, even slightly, it's easy to lose control: so choose straight, flat sections.

1 Don't slow down here... 2 Wait for the small straight. You'll just have time to get speed down

2. ACCELERATION

If you want the fastest start hold the accelerator. When the countdown reaches one whip your finger off the power and straight back on. The rev needle should hit max just as START appears onscreen.

3. CORNERING

Always remember: 'slow into the corner, fast out.' Decelerate, keep to the right line and accelerate out at full pelt. Going into fast corners, just take your finger off the speed. On slow corners use the brakes but make sure you don't lock the wheels.

If you brake late you'll run wide on the exit or won't pick up speed early enough. Only slam on the anchors late when you're trying to overtake a car just in front of your position.

4. GEARS

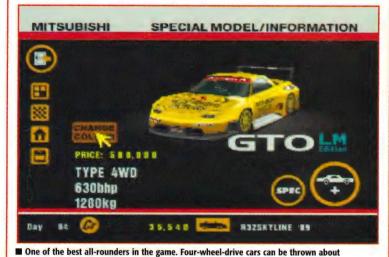

Using manual gears rather than an automatic makes little or no difference to acceleration or top speed. So why bother with manual? Well, it's to do with control y'see. Dropping gears helps you slow down, you can then keep revs high through a corner and finally come out screaming rather than crawling. Watch you don't drop through several gears too quickly. The sudden change in speed will make your mota skid out of control.

Use gears to keep revs high

5. HANDLING

Front-wheel-drive machines drag you around corners, so make sure you corner by the book. Rear-wheel drive motors skip out. Add a touch of opposite lock right on corners to swing yourself in. You can throw the four-wheel-drive motas all over the shop, but opposite steer and brakes gets you power-drifting.

Before you're allowed onto the track, you're gonna have to pass a few basic tests. Lessons you help get to grips with racing basics and give you a feel for various kinds of cars. Here's a crash course to get you started.

PART ONE

Select auto, keep the power up and, just before reaching 160km/h, slam on the brakes.

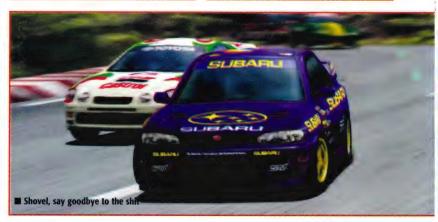

■ Jam the brake here

PART TWO

Repeat part one but this time punch the brakes just as you pass the 900m marker.

As you pass here stop as quickly as poss

PART THREE

Select manual gears, floor the accelerator and stay to the right. You'll reach the corner in third, turn in on the right line and drop a gear. Halfway round go up a gear. Remember to keep yer finger off the power.

1 Cut to the apex in third 2 Drop a gear and use the strips 3 Get into third before the exit

PART SEVEN

Repeat part six but pay closer attention to your speed. It's easy to go overboard and start sliding out. Also try and brake and turn into the first corner to get a touch of skid.

Go for auto gears and keep left. Turn in where the shadow gets thin at 125km/h. Keep this speed rumble strips and concentrate on getting a good line through BOTH bends.

1 Turn in at 125 2 Keep your speed constant and then switch to the left constant. Go from full right lock to full left lock where the shadow goes diagonal. Make sure you use both

Stay tight to the kerb 2 Jab left halfway through stepping on the power early

PART FOUR

Select auto and keep right. Brake and turn at the second marker on the right. Now zip out of the bend.

Turn and brake here 2 Hit the bend at about 100 and you should be doing 140 at the finish

PART EIGHT

PART SIX

The following speeds should give you an idea how fast to approach the corners. Remember all the other lessons you've learnt as you drive...

Turn one take at full speed, turn two at 150km/h, turn three at 120km/h, turn four at 125km/h, turn five flat out, turn six at 135km/h.

1 Turn one: banked for top speeds 2 Turn two: drop your revs a touch 3 Turn three: enter the chicane on a tight line 4 Turn four: power out of the second part of the S bend 5 Turn five: get your foot to the floor 6 Turn six: concentrate on max power as you exit the turn

PART FIVE

Repeat part four but this time brake slightly later and turn harder at the same time. You'll skid slightly and end up with a perfect line.

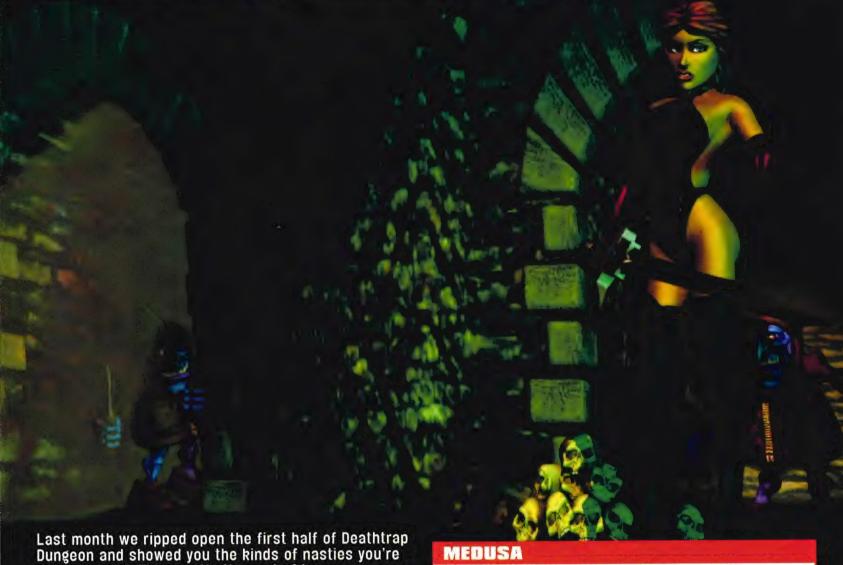

1 Jam the pedal and turn in hard 2 You'll slide into line and speed out no problemo

DEATHTRAP DUNGEON PART 2

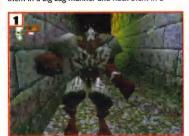

Last month we ripped open the first half of Deathtrap Dungeon and showed you the kinds of nasties you're likely to meet. This month, the rest of 'em...

NOW THE ENEMY PT 2

RATMEN

There are several types of ratmen, each a bigger pain in the arse than the one before. Basic ratman grunts are weak, but they attack in numbers. Send a fireball or two into their midst. Some ratmen have guns and attack from a distance. Run at them in a zig-zag manner and hack them in a couple of fell swoops. Ratmen grenadiers fire grenades at you. If you can run near other enemies, do so. Best killed with distance weapons, like the flamelance. Rat ogres are tough bastards. Try and avoid hand-to-hand combat. The blunderbuss works best on 'em.

■ The standard ratman. Easy meat...

■ Rat ogres. Ugly and tuff, like Pot Noodles

These chicks'll really make you hard. By turning you into stone. If they fire something that looks like a white fireball at you, run away. Fast. If it hits you, you'll be petrified. Only the anti-magic charm can save you. Only one of them can turn you to stone, so deal with her first. The other two should be easy. Keep moving to prevent them ganging up on you. Normal attacks don't do much to 'em, so use magic.

■ Devil woman, she'll put a spell on you. These bitches hit hard, poison and turn you to stone

GREATER AUTOMATON

That's 'bloody great robots' to us lot. They may look a bit cackola, but they hurt. Hurt real bad. These massive machines vomit fire and can chargrill you in an instant.

They can also grab and do some damage you may not walk away from. Your best chance is to get behind them and attack from there. Cowardly but effective.

Fire is the best weapon to use, as is energybased magic like the flamelance and the Arc of power. Just make sure you attack from behind. An attack from the front will probably end in every ounce of your flesh being burned off you.

■ Not like the kind of cute robot you see in cartoons. They don't engulf you in flames

THE BLOODBEAST

■ Attack the bloodbeasts from far away

Anal retentives will remember this from the cover of the Deathtrap Dungeon book. Like your batty gran, this beast wallows all day in a pit of filth and is deadly to be near. Make sure you stay well away from this beast, or you'll be poisoned. It's immune to normal attack, but the venom sword can pack a punch on it. The weak spot is on its forehead. If you can get enough hits there, you will succeed. The teleport in the room will zap you in front of the head of the bloodbeast, so you can catch it by surprise. Doing that a few times should deal with the filthy old bast.

THE HYDRA

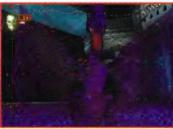

The Hydra don't like callers. It's got three heads which can all kill you and one can engulf you in flames. The Hydra can also take a load of damage. Do you have a pig's chance in a slaughterhouse? Actually, yes. The red sword is the best thing you can use. There is one trick that should see you through with little or no fuss. If you get right up to the Hydra, under the heads, it won't attack you. Simply plug away till it dies.

The time you're most likely to take damage is when you're trying to pull all the gold levers in the arena. If you have a charm of icy cool, this might be a good time to use it.

■ Red Lotus is a hot chick. Just make sure she don't become a flame-grilled chick

VILEFOR

■ What's big, hard and purple? Vilefor!

This dragon won't leave you alone for a second. If you stand still, he'll smack a fireball up your ass. One trick he uses is to trap you in a lift with a fireball. Swine. Also watch out for the fireballmines left on the floor.

Non-magical weapons are useless and fire attacks are pointless. You need the black sword and you need to lure Vilefor to the ground. If you stand in the same area, he'll land by you. Crack out a charm of icy cool and waste him with the black sword. He can take more hits than Tyson, but if you keep moving and hacking, you'll ice him.

MELKOR

Melkor, the final boss, is as hard as nails. As you make your way through the final level, he constantly hurls fireballs at you. Not nice.

If you keep moving, though, you'll be fine. You need the red sword to get any damage on him. The best time to attack is when he lands on his platform in the middle of the arena. Before you attack him, use an anti-magic charm, a charm of icy cool and a strength potion. That should do a fair amount of damage. If you have any flamelance or blunderbuss shots left, they can also be used. Your best bet, though, is to get in close. That might iust work

■ Melkor the red dragon. Sod the RSPCA. Make the bastard extinct

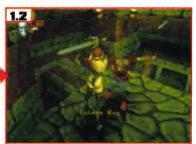

WALKTHROUGH PART 2

SEWER 1

Turn left and climb into the alcove. Follow the path, drop down and get the bomb. Lob the bomb into the room to splatter the group of orcs there. Drop down and go through the portcullis ahead, into a maze area.

Turn right and follow the path, keeping to the wall on the right. You'll have to kill some orcs on the way. In this maze area, if you head left, you'll find a falling slab that drops you to a secret area. A teleport will take you back.

After the maze, you'll arrive at a door with banners nearby. Enter here and cross the room to a double door. Go up the lift, kill the archer orc and get the red key. Now retrace your steps back to the starting area. Go straight ahead and go left, through the red key door. Cross the bridges, killing the orc archers, go up the lift and along the corridor. Kill more orcs and you'll eventually come to the gold key. Go back to the start area and exit via the gold portcullis.

Head down the lift and take a right along the sewer, carrying on straight ahead. Climb up into the alcove you find and get the health bonus. Open the wood door at the end of the sewer. Enter it and kill the archers, pull both levers and get the silver sword. Leave the room and turn immediately right, climbing into the alcove and going down the slope. Enter the coffin room on the right to get some pick-ups, killing the ghosts. Leave the room and continue along the corridor, down another slope, turning left and left again.

Kill the orcs and pull both levers to open the end of level portcullis. Drop down the falling slabs into sewer 3. There's a secret room at the start of the level. Take the path that lies ahead and turn left as it joins another corridor. You'll have to jump over a large hole and climb up to a portcullis door, behind which is the secret area, with a blunderbuss. Kill the orcs and pull the lever to return to the sewers.

 Instant Expert: Deathtrap Dungeon knifed!

SEWER 3

You'll land in a room filled with pods. Get the flamethrower from behind a hidden door and use it to toast the insects. Leave the room, head down the slope and turn right. Kill more insects and open the hidden door opposite, getting the pickups from the chest.

Enter the next room, down a slope, killing all the insects that pop out of hidden doors. When they're dead, the exit door will open. Drop through the falling slabs and kill the spider.

Turn right and activate the sliding block. Walk forward, opening the hidden doors and getting the pick-ups from the chests. Return to the t-junction you passed earlier and take the left fork. Climb up into the corridor and go straight ahead. Kill the spider and follow the path ahead.

You'll find a secret area before you come out above the insect queen. Kill the queen by destroying the stalactites, then exit at the opposite side of the room.

TRENCH 2

Run forward into a square bunker and press the activate button. You'll be teleported to the top of a pillbox where there is a secret area and a load of pick-ups. Hurrah! Now head back to the start of the level.

Kill all the ratmen in the pill-boxes and go up on the lift in the bunker.

Follow the path, killing ratmen along the way. You'll come to a maze.

The objective of the maze is to get to the command bunker. You have to take lifts up in the maze. One will take you to the command bunker. When you get there, pull the gold lever to drop the wall outside.

Now retrace your steps back through the maze and get back outside. Cross to the control centre, kill all the occupants inside and descend in the lift to the next level.

SEWER 4

Enter the medusa chamber. Kill all the medusa to access the treasure rooms. Grab the goodies. The room on the left has a secret area, concealed by a hidden door on the far wall. Exit the medusa room via double doors and take the lift up. Kill wandering orcs and climb up, killing the archers. Go through the door and to the opposite side of the room. Drop down into the pit on the right, pull the lever and climb up through a portcullis. Kill the orcs and the orc shaman to open the end-of-level door.

TRENCH 3

Open the door and kill the rat-ogre. Pull all four levers to allow access to the next area. Get the health and follow the corridor round. Stairs will lower you into the giant rat maze. There are two giant rats, both of which must be killed to open the door, leading to the ratking's rooms. The giant rats can be killed using normal weapons or by dropping them through the trap doors at the end of the maze.

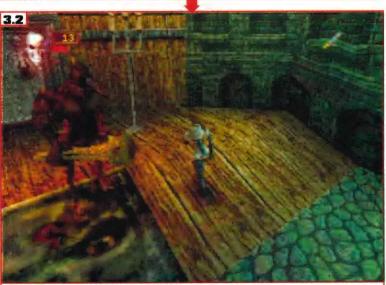

TRENCH 1

Climb out of the first trench and run across the open ground to the second trench. Avoid the mines and kill the ratmen. Killing the two gunners will deactivate the cannons. Climb the wall into the next trench. There are two lifts here, the left hand one leads to a small room with a chest, containing a key. The right hand lift leads to a room. Go down the right hand lift and open the opposite hidden door, revealing the secret area and getting the pick-ups.

Follow the path, killing the rat ogres, till you reach two portcullis doors. Take the door on the left but jump to the right before the lift pushes you onto spikes. Take the next lift up. Drop bombs or grenades from above to kill the ratmen below you. Collect the key, kill all the ratmen in the foxholes and cross to the end of the level, killing all the remaining ratmen. Get the key from beneath the walkway. You must have all three keys before the end of level door will open.

To get through the maze, head right, right and then take the first right. When the rats are dead, the portcullis opens, leading to the guards' room. Kill the ratmen in the window to get the red key. Kill the rats in the next room to open the ratking's throne room. Slaughter the ratking to open the end of level door.

INVERSION 1

Walk around the top, killing the ratmen. Get the blunderbuss and ammo. Take the lift down, head through the portcullis, killing the ratmen and the ogre. Behind the barrels is a chest with a pick-up inside.

Exit the room and you'll find the red key, killing ratmen on the way. There's a secret door to the left of the key, with pick-ups inside.

Go to the red portcullis, which you can now open. Head through and cross the bridge. Get to the room with the portcullis ahead of you and a lever on your right. Ignore the portcullis, the floor's trapped. Pull the lever, revealing the hidden door. Kill the ratmen and follow the passage round, leading to a t-junction. Head left to the end of the level. To the right is a lever, making the trapped floor safe so you can get the pick-ups.

INVERSION 2

You start on a bridge. Flame traps activate and then go off. Wait till they're finished and run past. Rat gunners appear on ledges, so haul ass over the bridge and through the door. Kill rat ogres and go to the next room. You'll get ambushed, so run through the door, dropping bombs. Kill the gunner in the next room. At the end is a hidden door with a silver key behind it. Get it and go left, taking the lift up.

Enter the corridor, which has three secret doors. Open the middle door for pick-ups, but be warned: it releases a swarm of ratmen. As you leave this corridor a door opens in front of you. Enter it and open the coffin on the right for pick-ups. The other coffins release ghosts. Go through the door with the eyes on it. In this room is a silver sword, but wait! If you run in, you'll be impaled.

Creep in to activate the trap, which you can then dodge. Get the sword and kill the ghosties, opening the door. Go out of the room and over the bridge. A door opens, so enter it, kill the gunners and ride the lift down. You'll be in an area with two doors. If you have the silver key, open the door on the left and get the flamelance. Go through the door on the right, kill the ogres, turn right and exit.

INVERSION 3

Go over the bridge and rat gunners will appear either side of you. Go through the door at the end of the bridge and kill the gunners. When you've dealt with them, enter the next room. Ahead of you is a portcullis you can't open, and there are four other doors.

The doors harbour ratmen. Go through the hidden doors, pulling levers, till you've pulled all four, opening the exit door of this room. Go through, onto the lift and ride it up. You'll reach a t-junction, at which point you should go left.

Follow the path round and go through the portcullis. A giant boot appears behind you. Get the gold key here and then deal with the boot. Head through the door on the left of the room and kill the gunners there. Follow the corridor round, ignoring the lift. Leap over a falling slab and get on the left of it. Enter a room full of pickups, and kill the ratmen that appear. You can go through the yellow portcullis for secret pick-ups if you wish. Exit the room via the double doors, cross the bridge, kill the gunners and exit.

INVERSION 4

At the t-junction, go left and kill the rats, grabbing all the pick-ups lying around the place. Come back to the t-junction and carry on round. Kill more rats and take the lift down. Head through the room and onto the bridge. Go through the next door and kill more ratmen. Take the first passage on the left to get a secret, but watch out for ghosts.

Head back to the main passage and take the second passage on the right, following it round. Open the door and ride the lift up.

Go through the portcullis and pull the lever on the right. Note the candles by the doors. Pull the levers behind the doors with one and two candles, exiting through the door with three candles. You'll teleport to where the gold key is. Take the nearby lift down and get the pick-ups behind the gold portcullis. Go back over to the lift and go through the other gold portcullis. There are three rockmen guarding the exit. Simply dodge 'em and exit through the door behind them, along the corridor to the left.

You start on a bridge with a right turn ahead. You can't enter the gold door to the right yet. Before the turning to the right is an arrow. Stand on the arrow and walk off the bridge, landing you on a platform below. Get the pick-ups and press activate to go towards the other tower ahead. Use the invisibility spell and enter the room, killing the four ogres. Pull the lever on the right pillar, making a trap safe. Get the key in the room. Exit through a hidden door and follow the passage round, taking the right hand portcullis.

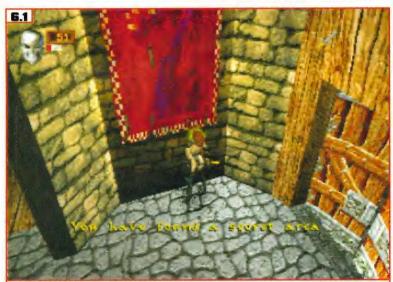

Activate the portcullis and a door behind you opens. Go through the portcullis. Kill more ratmen, grabbing pick-ups and pulling the lever. Head back to the gold portcullis. Grab the pickups and take the lift up. Kill rat grenadiers and jump into the room with a lever and two candles outside. Pull the lever and jump back to the lift. Jump to the second lever and pull it. The portcullis opens. Jump opposite it and pull the lever there. If you take too long, the levers reset, so move quick. Now ride the lift to the exit.

INVERSION 8

Head along the walkway. Drop off to a save point and teleport back up. Carry on along the walkway and a small robot will teleport in ahead of you. Kill it and go through the portcullis. Don't get on the lift, but kill the grenadiers with distance weapons. Now go down on the lift and kill the ogres. Open the chests on the left and right, getting the pick-ups. Kill the robots, but avoid the middle of the room which collapses.

INVERSION G

Get on the turtle and enter the room, killing the rat gunners. Open the portcullis on the left, jump back, kill the emerging enemies and get the pick-ups inside. Stand in front of the tapestry and press activate to reveal a secret. Exit the room and follow the passage up. Kill the ratmen and go through the portcullis on the right. Crack out the firefly spell, 'cos it gets dark. Kill the ratmen lurking and get the pickups. Activate the tapestry here for another secret. Follow the passage on the left round, killing the ogres. Activate the banner you arrive at and enter the door to exit.

Destroy the giant robot, making sure you are as near to the lift as possible when it dies. The lift will descend, so get on it pronto. At the bottom, get on the turtle and ride it to the end of the level.

INVERSION 7

Head over the bridge and through the portcullis. Pull the levers on either side of the door here, being quick 'cos they're time-based. Go to the left and enter the teleport. Go round the corridor, through a portcullis and get on the turtle. Head through the portcullis and go right. get the pickups and pull the lever, entering the teleport just down the corridor.

Drop down and pummel the robots with the grenade launcher. Go through the door, open the coffin on the right, killing the ghost and getting the pick-ups. Enter the teleport. Where you end up, head through the door. On the right is a hidden door with secret pick-ups. Follow the passageway round till you reach a junction. Turn left and exit the level.

INVERSION 9

Ride the turtle and kill the ratmen with the rocket launcher. They attack from both sides. When you get the message 'watch out' get ready to jump to the other turtle. When you get to the bog room, run to the lift shaft on the right and drop down, getting the secret pick-ups. Teleport and go to the second shaft, dropping down to get to the second secret area. Kill everything, exit through the door at the back of the area.

Kill all of the knights in the main hall. Head through the hidden door in the far wall, opposite to where you start from. Pull the lever and open the second hidden door in the room.

Kill the knights and open another hidden door in the main room. Enter it, dodge the fire trap and pull the lever. Return to the main hall. There is now a lift that you can use in the floor of the main hall. Ride it on down.

Ignore the two levers beside you and run through the flame. It's an illusion, and a good deal better than anything Paul Daniels can muster up. Yes Paul. After you've got the secret pick-ups from behind the flame and use the lift to return to the main hall.

Use the lever on the right to activate it. Head to the exit of the hall, in the wall opposite to where you entered this level.

Pull all four levers along it and then head for the central plinth part of the walkway. Pull the lever here also. Now drop down and pull six gold levers, avoiding the hydra.

Pass through the wooden door, getting the red sword. There is a hidden door with a secret behind it in this room. Now go back and kill the hydra with the red sword. Return to where you found the red sword and enter the teleport. Pass through the door and exit the level.

Return to the main hall and exit. Defeat the knights and get the gold key. Open the portcullis and go up on the lift. Now fight the Bloodbeast! Grab the pickups from the portcullises that opens when you've killed it. If you're poisoned, there is antidote in a door in the right hand wall. Exit via the lift.

For this level, you need the black sword to kill Vilefor the purple dragon. It can only be obtained by pulling all three gold levers in the level. From the start, go to the portcullis to the left of the central area. Go to the top level via the lift and exit to the upper level walkway. To the right is a lever, opening a door in the back of the lift shaft. In that door is another lever. Pull this lever and jump back to avoid the bolt trap. You can now activate the first gold lever behind you.

Go right at the centre of the walkway, pulling the lever to allow to allow you access to the second gold lever in the level. A falling slab will drop you to the floor level. Head north and up to the top level, via the lift, and pull the second gold lever. Return again to floor level. In the top right corner of the main area is a door you open using the lever next to it. There's an ankh of vitality here, which is damn useful. Only one more lever till you can fight Vilefor.

Take the lift down and go to the rear pillar on the left of the area you enter. Pull the lever there and enter the area to the right of the room. Get the pick-ups there and pull the lever. Return to the main area and use the lift. Pull the lever at the top and return to the main room. Go through the portcullis, follow the corridor and go through another portcullis. Go around the walkway, killing the priestesses.

Go up on the lift. You'll find a wall lever allowing access to the third gold lever. Pull the final gold lever and you can now get the black sword. Fight the black dragon with the black sword. You can read about the black dragon in the 'Know the enemy' section. With the black dragon dead, the end of level portcullis opens. Return to floor level and exit.

You begin at the highest point of the arena. Head out of the lift shaft. There's a save point to the right, so you should use it now as it disappears when you enter the arena. There is a lever to your left. Pull it to enter the arena and head through the door. Follow the walkway round, avoiding falling blocks. You'll come across two levers, one needing a silver key. Pull the lever that you can, opening a door next to where you entered the level.

Go back to the start and follow the walkway around. You'll get to a silver key, by falling blocks. Grab it and use it on the silver key lever from earlier. The wall to the right will open, giving you access to the lower walkways.

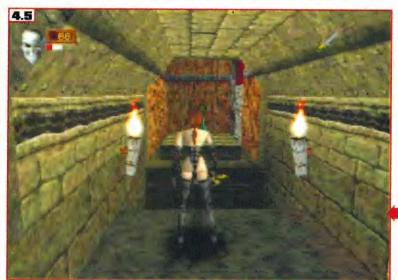

Go through the wall and open the portcullis. Ride the lift down.

You'll end up in a corridor but, watch out, there's a collapsing floor near the end of the corridor. Jump over it.

As you enter the chamber past that, you should see a wall close. You need to get a gold key to open it. Under a block in the room is a lever. Pull it and do not move. After you've seen the block slam down, go across the chamber and climb up onto the block. There's a lever on top of it which you should pull, opening two portcullises on the level. Go through either one.

Pulling this lever has opened a hidden door in the red room, with a gold key inside.

Get it and enter the chamber. In the exit corridor are two collapsing floors, set off when you come too close to the torches. Set them off and use jump over the gaps, going through the portcullis. The walkways of the main chamber are linked by teleporters. Use the teleporters to move between the two lower walkways and the the platform in the middle of the area.

You'll end up in a red chamber with two levers in it. Pull the smaller lever to disable the trap then the larger lever. A door will open, and inside is another lever to pull. Doing so lowers several blocks in the main room. They are trapped, however. Two blocks slam across the corridor when activated. To dodge it, climb up onto the new blocks and jump down the other side.

Now climb up to the top of the blocks and pull the final lever, collecting the flame lance.

Under the centre platform are pick-ups. On the lower walkway, get the red key and go through the door it opens. Go down the corridor and into a room with two raised sides. As you enter, you should see a door closing. There is a red sword over a pit, but don't jump it yet. Climb up and open the door, jumping to dodge the fireball trap. Inside is a lever, opening the next door.

Run to the next door before it shuts, dodging the fireball on the way. If it shuts, just pull the lever again. Inside the next room, grab the pick-ups and pull the lever, opening the next door. Go through the door.

The gauges you can see show flame traps are about to start. They fire in this order: the right of the room, left, front and back. If you survive the sequence, the floor will lower and you have a short time to pull the lever.

Now run to the last door, dodging more fireballs. Pull the final lever inside. lowering a wall, making it safe for you to get the red sword, which you should now do. Now you can fight Melkor the red dragon! Melkor can easily take any shit you throw at him, so you'll need to have a plan in mind. Check out the 'Know the enemy' section at the start of this guide to set you right. After Melkor's dead, your quest is over. Now get out and meet some real women...

in the future crime will pay.

That's tricky. Y'see, neither of 'em are quite up to the gold standard set by Broken Sword 2. Discworld 2's a spoken-wordy effort a bit like Broken Sword 2, but it's based on Terry Pratchett's books. Even if we ignore for a moment the obvious fact that anything to do with Terry Pratchett should be burnt on an enormous pyre, the game's a few notches short of being a Broken Sword. The puzzles ain't as clever, and the gags ain't as sharp.

Riven's a bit of a different animal. It's more picture-based than Broken Sword: the graphics are dead nice-looking, and if picture-puzzles are your bag, this is well worthy of your attention...

Martyn Naunton

You remember when we told you loads of times in many issues of PlayStation that Sony was keeping a really tight lid on any new PlayStation development, so we didn't know anything about 'PlayStation 2'?

Remember now? We're guessing you must be so sharp you figured that we were just trying to conceal the truth from you all along. Curses! If it wasn't for you pesky kids...

So yeah. We've been holding out on you. Here's a picture of it.

In line with current trends for increased environmental friendliness, it's completely powered by household waste. Rumours that a heavy Tekken 7 session will cause it to emit a stench of burning poo are unconfirmed.

And all this is our way of saying: nobody knows anything about PlayStation 2!

■ Please stop asking us questions about the PlayStation 2. We dunno, alright?

Twisted Metal 2 World Tour

With a twist of metal

How do you get the secret cars in Twisted Metal 27

John MacKinnon

All too easy to those in the know. To get the secret fellas, including the totally unfairly hard Minion, whatcha gotta do is head to the car select screen and type:

For Minion, enter 🚺 🏚 🗸 🐗 For Sweet Tooth, enter 🏚 💶 🖎 🖈

Ooh. He's a big fella in't he? Minion is highly efficient at turning the area around him into a smouldering wasteland 2 A killer ice-cream van 3 ...that fires big blobs of pink stuff. Cool

ALUNDRA

Are there any good Legend of Zelda-type games on the PlayStation? If so, what are they? Niall Cameron m The PlayStation doesn't score high on the elfometer, does it?

But rest easy, Niall. The pointy-eared hero you so desire is coming, and he's gonna be the star of a game stuffed with stupidly complex role-playing bits and silly magical items and shit. The game's called Alundra, we think it's a top blast, and fortunately for you, it's on the shelves already...

BAD GAMES

Will Altered Beast ever appear on the PlayStation? I think it's pure class. Please send me some tips on the impeccable The Note.

Daniel William Blake

🕦 Dan. We've got some nasty news for you. What we're about to say may hurt your feelings. You've got the worst taste in games of anyone

For a start, The Note is total horseshit. Even thinking about playing it gives us migraines. And besides that, here's some more bad news: we don't send cheats out to people. Ever.

And secondly, Altered Beast is painfully bad. Even six years ago we wouldn't have wiped our arses with it. Why dig up such horrible memories? Daniel, please never write to us again, OK?

CASPER

How do you kill the ghosts in Casper? Ben Farmer

You kill the first Fatso by feeding him hamburgers. Stinky's weakness is for perfume, Stretch's is glue. You nail the Fatso in the bathtub by pointing the camera at him.

To ice General Fatso, you just need to use the wind-up key then hammer the tanks. For Farmer Stinky, use the hammer and chisel to carve the stone into Casper's image. For Graveyard Stretch, it's a question of burying 'im. Use the twister morph to lure him in. Easy!

We don't believe that your name's Jack Regan. And we don't reckon they're gonna make a Sweeney game 20 years after the series. For starters. John Thaw's now about 100 years old and more suited to playing suburban lawyer/chief inspector types. You can't expect to shed the burden of his many years and turn

CUTIE-PIE PUKE FACTOR

What do you recommend - Gex 3D, Croc or Crash Bandicoot 2?

600 Ooh. Y'see we'd recommend them all, if truth be told, 'cos they're all class in a glass, but unless you're the kind of rich wanker we'd like to throw rocks at, you won't be able to afford 'em. So we'll put 'em in a little table for you to see their virtues:

VARIETY FACTOR

GEX 3D	GEX 3D 101 different flavours	GEX 3D Medium to rock
Mild retches
CRASH BANDICOOT 2 Tiny vomit spasms	CRASH BANDICOOT 2 Selection box	CRASH BANDICOOT 2 A bit crumbly
CROC	CROC	CROC
All out gut-heaving fest	Errr What?	Pretty damn granite

There you go, if you want rock hard gameplay only, go for Croc. Otherwise, Gex 3D is yer man, with Crash Bandicoot coming a close second.

Mow about a few bijou-tip-ettes to get you some extra firearms?

Actually, we don't know why we bother with this 'How about' shit. It's not as if you've got any choice in the matter:

To get a Beretta, just turn round on the first level of Die Harder and pump lead at the chopper. It'll drop you Italy's finest machinegun. Scorchio!

■ This is your reward, Brucey boy. Pull out the sidearm and start blasting...

And after that, if you destroy the crates after clearing the first room on the second level, you'll get a Beretta as your default weapon, adding a tasty bit of Euro-sophistication to the way you slaughter people.

But if kick-ass American firepower's more your bag, just wait till you're on the second wave of Die Harder and then chuck a grenade at the first bunch of muthas unfortunate enough to start shooting ya. The screen should flash up M16 and you'll find you've got an M16 as your default weapon.

■ Bring down the chopper and you'll get yourself a killa piece...

And if even that ain't tooled enough for you, to get an MP5 as your default weapon, wait till you're on the church level and shoot the first guy who has a red circle round 'im.

While we're talking Die Hard, here's how to turn your car into an alien spacecraft on Die Hard 3.

Just go to the Central Park level, and make as if to quit, but don't quit. Hold down Roswell screen should come up, and when you resume, you'll be an alien...

THE MIX: Stuff you need to know

E MIX: Stuff you need

It's judgement night in King's College London, where a selection of hopefuls and total no-hopers have piled into the student union to try their hands at the super-speedy racer Motorhead. It's all part of a nationwide challenge brought to you by the National Union of Students and PlayStation: in about a hundred unions up and down Britain, students are queueing up to check out selections of the latest games...

9pm So far only one competitor is hovering around the scene of the action. It's John, a man with a disgusting ginger afro. John knows a sinister amount about computer games. He is possibly the most boring man

Downstairs, the other Motorhead hopefuls are limbering up for their hyperspeed drive with a few drinks. Farbo is being quietly confident. 'Call me 'Turbo Farbo'! I've raced in Formula Ford, you know. I don't need to practice, I'll wipe the floor with anyone.' Farbo hasn't had a drink for six months so he could race in the London Marathon. This qualifies him as a Grade A wuss.

Bryan and James don't check in quite as high on the tossbag scale as Turbo Farbo. Bryan just wants to win so he can get a free game. James just wants to look at his girlfriend Naomi's boobs. Maybe 'wants' is too strong a word. She's so impressively upholstered it's difficult not to look at them. And when you're armed with a wide lens camera the temptation to immortalise them on film is just too large...

10 pm The competitors are nearly ready to rock. Lager has instilled Farbo with bottom's famous. And she doesn't even Next door, we've got this effeminate looking toff flouncing around with some females. James says: 'He's called Henry Selby-Lounge. Just call him Henry Double-Barrelled' Nah. We'll just not speak to him, if

'Just call me 'Turbo Farbo', I don't need practise, I'll wipe the floor with you' the conviction he's unbeatable. But lager is often wrong. Bad lager! Bad! On the plus side, lager has loosened Naomi's top, and one of her astounding bosoms is trying to make its escape. Faithful old lager. We never doubted it for a second.

Across the other side of the bar, a bottom tattoo is showing its face at the top of a gal's builder's crease. Flash! Her it's all the same to you.

Next to Sir Shellfish-Oaktree or whatever he's called are a selection of gals, one of whom has 'orrible teeth but incredibly inflated bosoms. 'Just lean forward love, and... heh heh... squeeze together.' Nice.

12am Upstairs the action's hotting up. Some people have begun to mash their faces together on the dancefloor. They really shouldn't. John has cornered someone and is treating him to a conversation so boring it might actually be fatal. Time to start the competition without him.

Turbo Farbo arrives with Henry Spindle-Loofah. Perhaps this is a deliberate attempt to make 'Turbo Farbo' sound less stupid. It doesn't work.

First up is Nikki against James. It's a Battle of the Joeys as they fight it out to get round the first corner. 'Go straight! Go straight!' Turbo Farbo is shouting. But they're finding even this a little bit tricky. Maybe James is being distracted by Naomi's hooters. Maybe he's just shit. Who can tell?

After James finally grinds in to first place, it's Jenny and Andy J's turn. Jenny's been studying at the James and Nikki school of driving. She's bumping gently against the first corner as Andy J zips round the track. Will she make it past... will she?

'Someone in the crowd mentions the word 'cripple' What a nasty person'

Errr... nope. Nul points for our Jenny. Someone in the crowd mentions the word 'cripple'. What a nasty person.

Bryan's up next against Andy. 'What're the controls? I'm shit at this'. Yup, he's shit all right. Andy steams home. He should, he's been playing it every night this week, the cheeky bastard.

Finally, it's the turn of Turbo Farbo. He's striding up with the confidence of a man who's already won. 'No one's gonna beat Turbo Farbo' he says. Then the only thing he says is 'NO!' for the next five minutes as his car grinds and scrapes along the wall while Amit quietly zooms round to victory. He doesn't say anything to the suggestion that his loss makes him Amit's bitch. But he wouldn't, would he?

So it's bye bye Turbo Farbo. How sad. He must have crunched up those Formula Ford cars like a bastard. If he's ever been in a car, that is.

1am It's time for the semis. In the overweight red-faced corner is Andy. Opposite him is James. While James plays, Naomi watches. While Naomi watches, we watch Naomi's funbags. Very closely. So we can't tell you anything about the race. Andy won. We don't know why.

Meanwhile, John has met up with a friend. They've formed some kind of pack and are stalking normal people with conversational gambits of weapons-grade boredom. The crowd thins. Run! Run like the wind!

It's getting empty now. It's down to the hardcore: Andy J against Amit. Both of these boys are pretty scorching, so it's even Stevens most of the way. It's a close one, but Andy J turns out to be Amit's bitch as well. That's a lot of bitches he's collecting. How does the man do it?

So the final's between Andy and Amit. An audience of three spotty gimps watch the clash of the Motorhead titans. It's close, but Amit clinches it. His words of victory: 'Can I get my free game now?'

And the secret of his success? When he turns round, it says 'Student Union Security' on his jacket. He's been working in here all week, sharpening his Motorheading skills all the while.

Who said life was fair?

Everytime you've been stuck in traffic, you've dreamt about this game. Stick some armour-piercing weaponry on your motor: it's time to go mental!

rightening Yank rednecks drop their bottles of 'Buuud' and jump into their pick-up trucks to blitz carloads of no-good Arab terrorist filth. It's kind of like Mad Max goes Dukes of Hazzard, But, hey, who gives a toss? It's brilliant anyway...

Fight!

You start out packing a crappy little machine gun. Tool up fast. Get yourself about three bits of artillery, then go head-on against the other cars. They'll have been tooling up too, so just go in, hit 'em, then run. Tool up some more, then do it again. Sound easy? Think again...

■ Time to start up. And see how pissy that machine gun is?

■ That's better. Some serious explosive poundage strapped on. Time to pick a fight

■ Just the way we like it. Skid past, and rake 'em

■ Another pass, and zoom off to find more guns. Life don't come better than this

Scenery

There's plenty of stuff to kill here. And not all of it's moving either.

Yup, you're so damn good at the killing business you can even slaughter inanimate obiects. This allows you to do some interesting attacks like rolling rocks onto cars on paths below you, or even severing wires to electrify water...

1 Just call me Mr. Devious. Suck on my rocks, ya bastard! 2 Drop a 50,000 volt cable into the water. Now wait for some twat to fall in 3 Take the ski lift down for fun and profit... 4 Until someone pumps rockets into it. Which can seriously ruin your day

Special attacks

In addition to the old no-brain 'line 'em up in yer sights and give 'em both barrels' type of fighting, you can use your weapons deviously to reach new heights of creative murder. For instance, by tapping the rocket button lightly you can set off a rocket while it's still in your rack, giving you a speed boost ideal for surprise jumping attacks...

Whoosh! Rocket it up, and go over the top!

Now chew boomstick, y'little shit!

Rogues' Gallery

Few things in life are as certain as the choices you get to make in videogames. Whether it's a beat 'em up or a racing game, the same's always true: the fast one's are as weak as a tin of budget lager and the strong one's

We'd like to say...

Metal's been gathering dust since V8 turned up. Ah well. Vigilante is now officially the new rock 'n' roll when it comes to motorised murder on the 'Station. Get it now, d'you hear?

Twisted Metal 2's been a big fave round these parts for donkey's. But we're fickle, and Twisted are slow, slow, slow.

The moral of the story is that you can never have the best of both worlds.

Naturally, Vigilante 8 isn't gonna be the game that breaks the mould. And here's the motors you're gonna be carrying out your trailer-park blitzkrieg in.

And this being America, none of 'em are just simple cars. They're cars with dates, see? Not a Palomino — a '70 Palomino. Our friends over the pond are a funny bunch, right enough...

Two up

A firefight ending in the death of a close friend seems to add a particularly sweet tang to that delicious feeling of murder. Yup, killing your mates is where it's at in this kind of game, and Vigilante 8 doesn't disappoint. Playing one-on-one is fast and furious, and it's so tense things can get pretty evil between the two players. Just the way we like it.

1 Major killage. Now die, pig! 2 Eat lead, ponce! 3 This game can ruin friendships. Be warned

Quest

'Quest' mode? In a cars 'n' carnage game? You kind of expect hobbits and things with pointed ears to be involved in a quest, not backwoods American lunatics whose mother's also their aunt. It turns out though, that Quest's just a short sequence of pretty straight up firefights for each character: completing it'll get you new cars and new arenas.

1 You've got to save the world. Again 2 Each stage gets harder, with more baddies for you to ice 3 Once you're up against a real shedload of 'em, they start doing coordinated attacks 4 That smouldering smell of success. We love this...

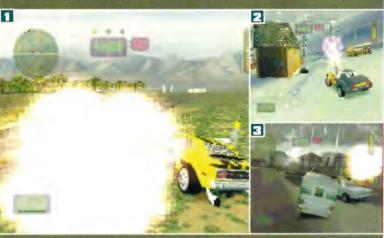

■ Getting hit can be very bad for your car's bodywork

What we like

There's some things that are just bloke stuff. Spending weekends searching for a new exhaust sprocket for your vintage Harley. Assaulting people for 'looking at you funny'. Drinking whisky even though you dislike it. Anything involving the combination of cars and guns falls into this category. Don't ask why we love it. It's a hormonal thing, orright?

Sweet. A big seventies sports car. With a rocket launcher on it — Hoo boy. No one's gonna doubt the size of our schlongs now! — Camper van. Just imagine it's filled with goofy Hun tourists. Then napalm it — Blowing up big vans. We don't know why we does it. We jus' does it

Big

Boy are the arenas big here. If these arenas were in Eastern Europe they'd be clamouring to become independent nation states. And what's more, they're varied: we've got hilly arenas with loads of tree cover, arenas with cliffs, dirt tracks, car parks. The bizz in other words. Let's rip!

A big old track going up the side of a hill. Start racing down the piste, badass! 2 Lotsa water, lotsa disused buildings. Fight! It's criminal not to 3 Springtime. Just add pollution as desired, shake and serve 4 The desert. Slug it out on the dirt tracks, get jammed into the dunes...

BEACH BUGGY

'72 MOTH TRUCK

Aaah. The ultimate vehicle for uneducated America. Driven by a mustachioed spazzmoid too. Mmmm. Nice.

70 MUSTANG

Ah, the good ol' days when cars like this really were babe magnets instead of signs of massive insecurity.

Multi button shtuff

By doing clever stuff with your weapons, you can access combos and finishing moves. It's just a question of hammering in your average beat 'em up-type key combination, and you'll do a beat 'em up-type combo. Except with armour-piercing weaponry instead of boring old fists. Expect stuff like six-rocket salvos and multiple mine dumps. Tasty.

Blow 'em sky high with a few simple button presses

1 Ouch. That has got to hurt 2 Turn a really quite nice area into an uninhabitable moonscape. Nice

As two-player modes go, Armoured Core is a bit tasty. Playing screens are a tad small, and there ain't enough areas to run around, but it's still a good laugh for an hour or so at a time. You can also use custom-built bots from the one-player mode, which makes fights more personal.

Tricky to see the screen.

■ But there's plenty of violent action to be had

We'd like to say... You need nous and quick reactions in equal measure to do well in Armoured Core. Bashing away on the buttons works for a bit, but sooner or later you need to formulate attack plans and work out how to take out different enemy with minimum damage to yourself.

Big guns

If you like giant weapons of destruction, you're gonna love all this shit. Lasers for close range slashing, rockets and missiles in various shapes and sizes, bombs, cannons, riffles, machine guns; just about anything your sadistic heart desires. Our favourites are the multi missiles that look like a fireworks display gone mad.

ince this is based on a manga film, you probably thought it was gonna star some 12-year-old schoolgirl with eyes the size of dinnerplates. Nope. In fact, it stars a murderous robotic tin can on legs. Most odd.

Up 'n' down

One of the clever things about your shell/robot thing is that it can scurry up walls and stick to ceilings and stuff. Cool or what? At first, you get this kind of dizzy feeling of homesickness for a world where up is up and down is down, but pretty soon you'll be dancing on the ceiling like nobody's business...

Boogie killin'

4 You'll find you walk up walls by accident...

The way your guns pump out hurtage is way cool. See, you've got a little power bar which builds up if you hold down the machine gun button: when it's full you'll fire off rockets. Hold it a bit longer, and you'll blast off a big salvo. Hold it too long and it all goes phut: no show, daddio. Just get that damn timing right...

There's been a lot of effort put in here to keep each new level entertaining. We've got speedboat chases, battles on a harsh time limit, underground sewer mazes. Christ, we've even got a fight against a purple bint who can go invisible. We like the purple girl.

1 Night vision mode: robots can see in the dark... 2 Purple invisible girl. For such a cutie, she packs a punch 3 Faster! Kill! Kill! 4 Blast that bastard outta the sky 5 Stick that up your robotic ass! You've gotta kill these boys to get entry codes...

Big bad bosses

Murder can be fun. And never more so than when you're sticking it to someone about 20 times your size who's tooled up with enough high-tech weaponry to wage war against another galaxy. Each level comes with a fat-ass baddie at the end: just wait for that phrase, 'Unknown code sensed and approaching' and it's time to kick ass...

1 Ooh. He's big in't he? And he packs quite a punch 2 This lad's a bit more trouble, though 3 And he's pumped up with serious bombs. 4 Speedboat baddie has two little mates who cause you trouble 5 And then he hangs back to pump bombs atcha. Time to die!

We'd like to say... This has got a soundtrack of weapons-grade awesomeness. Techno gods like Dave Angel strut their mechanical stuff as you carry on your one-robot blitzkrieg. Heavyweight techno mixes in pretty sweetly with the game's non-stop robo-death and we reckon this is the best game soundtrack ever...

Missions

Most of the levels start with a slice of manga where a bearded geezer tells you and your mates where to go and what to kill. Did we mention the top-notch manga bits before? Did we? Huh? There's heaps of shit to be doing, like defusing bombs an' stuff, and on loads of the levels, you'll be chasing after some big baddie. Whatever the boss man says...

Listen to the words of the bearded man. He has wisdom 2 Mission 3: track down tons of bombs in under a minute... 3 Or this happens. Rad show, old bean...

Sickeningly cool. A bit short, and the guns are sometimes a tad fiddly, but otherwise this fires on all cylinders. Nice to look at, nice to play, nice to listen to. Nice. Rob Pump bullets into cuddly toys instead of human torsos for a change. Sounds kinda pukey but this is one kick-ass game. Honest.

e know, we know. It feels immoral to pick up a lightgun if your goal isn't indiscriminate destruction of human life. But trust us. Inanimate stuff doesn't shriek and bleed, but it's still lots of fun to pop caps into...

What we like

Gameplay

Variety in your average gun game is when you drill the bad guy through the kidneys rather than letting him have it in the head. Not so here: against the clock you're pumping ammo into leaping piranhas, clay pigeons, cardboard ninjas, even floating leaves. Get far enough in, and you'll have to plug a fly with one shot...

Pump lead into the cuckoos. But don't set off the bombs 2 Christ. Marksmen don't get it this tough. Hit a leaf? Oh, come on... The parachute swaying makes it bastard hard to hit the targets

Licence to skill

If you want to show off how much bigger and badder you are than your mates, you've come to the right place. Point Blank is purely about shooting skill. And remember: scientists have proved marksmanship is directly proportional to penis size. No, really...

1 No alien rocks are gonna hit earth while we're on the case 2 Don't think this bloke on the right can cut it 3 Speed is crucial to not looking like a ponce 4 Bastard! Stop poaching my kills!

Your mission

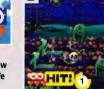

The Quest mode is a lame duck. But the arcade levels ooze sex. You've got to blast your way through loads of different challenges in turn, with the odd 'very hard' level thrown in there. And if you're playing two-player you compete against each other as you do so. Polish up your command of phrases like 'You blind bastard!' You're gonna need 'em..

Blam! Blam! Eat lead, you bastids. Cuteness will not save you! Quest. The scent of dog poo is strong here 3 Arcade mode. Now that's more like it. 4 Go on, pop up and cop a headful of lead. We dare you... 5 You've got to spray about 3lbs of lead into these

Sharp shootin'

Point Blank uses the G-Con45, the gun which comes free with Time Crisis. The G-Con's the big daddy of PlayStation lightguns, but so far, there ain't been many games worth pointing this soopah shoota at. But Point Blank is worthy of the God of boomsticks. And we don't say that lightly...

Accuracy's out the window for this 'un.

Part-time fans look elsewhere. World League Soccer is for fanatics only.

noccer's a stoopid Yank name for football. But we're willing to forgive and forget. With gameplay as good as this they could have called it Adam Ay's Playground Kickaround and we still would've loved it. Maybe.

Gameplay

The closest we've seen to the beautiful game itself. Play can be tight all over the pitch but suddenly open up. Sometimes it'll click together in attack, other times the ball just won't find the back of the net. Midfield battles rage, defenders make crucial errors and gods of the game score legendary goals.

1 So far neither side have dominated... 2 Ooh Real get caught in defence... 3 Chelsea get in a decent cross... 4 Flow meets it with plenty of power. 5 But no accuracy

On the ball

Don't expect loadsa space and time in possession. Marking is usually tight and it's easy to give the ball away. All in all the experience is pretty nerve-wracking. Try and second-guess opponents and don't leave it too late to pass or shoot. You'll get rudely hacked down.

1 Whether trying to make it happen from midfield... 2 Or taking 'em on up front... 3 Or defending deep, expect tight play. Like the real game, you can't afford to take unnecessary time on the ball

Off the ball

Several kinds of tackle mean you can get your teeth into defending. Interceptions and headers add more. Make a rash tackle and yer man'll skip past. Back off and you're inviting a shot. Players are selected automatically but you can override the computer choice.

What we like

Skills

If you're gonna spend serious time on a kickabout you want serious moves, and World League Soccer's got the lot. It takes a bit of time to work out what the hell you're doing, but the results are soooo cool

Headers: come in about 10 varieties 2 Crosses can be swerved towards or away from goal 3 A tasty lob but do you control the ball, flick it on, or go for a first-time strike?

Team talk

Choose the formation to suit your needs. Pick how many in defence, midfield and attack, add a sweeper or add a midfield striker. Position players individually, get them marking to a zone or man. You can even double mark dangerous players.

■ Set up your team from the changing rooms

■ Players can be ordered to perform certain roles

Scoring in World League Soccer isn't just a case of pegging it upfield and blasting one off. Getting goals is tricky and takes imagination and skill. If you want to pick up a controller and thrash yer mates straight away you'll be disappointed. This game rewards effort...

🏊 o. We can't get tickets to the World Cup eh? Instead of resorting to violence against foreign students, or boycotting paté, howzabout buying World Cup 98 and hammering the French? Over and over and over again. Sweet.

France 0 1405 эн

Most World Cup 98 goals are spectacular, which is what you want. It's easy to slot home powerful shots and heading in from a cross is simple. The only thing is, when goals arrive so often, you don't get as much

In the 12th minute Italy win a corner... 2 The defenders make a hash of things... 3 Luckily, the keeper pulls out an amazing reaction stop... 4 But the ball falls for Vieri, the flag stays down and he slots it in... 5 Much as we love the French, let's hope they lose big time

Skills

Not a bad collection of basic skills like through-balls, headers and chips. On top of those, you've got an extra button to sort out dribbling tricks. Hold down a shoulder key and you can turn your man, dink left or right or flick the ball over your head and run on to it.

■ Spin around defenders...

Or fool 'em by jinking to either side...

Or even try flicking the ball above yer head

Gameplay

Smart passing, combined with plenty of tackling options means games can be hard-fought. On the whole World Cup 98 feels fluid, but the graphics tend to judder about. You've also got to select who you want to control, which can be a hassle.

3 Passes end up where you intended... 2 And it's easy to spread the ball 3 Good graphics but movement's a bit jerky 4 Select your player

We'd like to say...

If you think this looks familiar, you'd be right. It's from the people who do FIFA, and the gameplay is pretty similar. So if you've got a FIFA game, do you need it? Yup. Not for the World Cup teams, but cos it's a better title.

More speed

How fast would Sir like his game? Realistically paced or quicker than Oliver Reed trying to catch last orders? In World Čup 98 you can alter the speed of the game. Sports sim, arcade bash, or something inbetween. It's about time somebody thought of doing this.

Options let you fiddle with the speed

■ Ultra-fast speed is not to be missed

What we like

Instant game

No need to waste hours and hours learning controls. Just grab a copy of World Cup 98, add a few mates, chuck in some beer and Bob's yer uncle - instant footy thrills. You don't need a degree to score, in fact, your mum could probably get close. But there's also the possibility of developing more advanced techniques. Well hello Matron

Flick past a few options

Get your team out on the pitch.

And straight away you'll be scoring

■ Advanced players can manage their team

Classic matches

Win the World Cup and a series of historic games open up. Shorts get longer, the ball belongs in a museum, commentary gets all old skool and players aren't that good. Just like swapping hands, it's a nice touch to keep the one-player mode interesting.

1 Uruguay against Argentina in the 1930 World Cup Final. Long shorts, funny balls 2 Can you alter history and get Hungary to beat Italy in the 1938 Final? 3 'They think it's all over... It is now.' Yup, that England-won-the-World-Cup in 1966 match is in there too

Top-draw goals, accurate teams, amazing commentary. World Cup 98 is only let down by jerky graphics and Chumbawumba's 'Tubthumping'. Please God make me deaf. Jon Ouestion: what should you do if you see Three Lions? Answer: run away.

f you're a true England fan yer nerves should be raw about now. You know what the team's capable of and you hope nothing goes wrong. In the meantime, you might wanna shell out for the official team game. Don't. It'll get you very depressed.

Gameplay

Sluggish, inaccurate and dull, dull. You should be able to pick up a footy game and do things. You know, like pass the ball around, use close control or the odd trick, go for headers, cross the ball. Three Lions has got moves but the gameplay is so poor you'll find it impossible to put anything together.

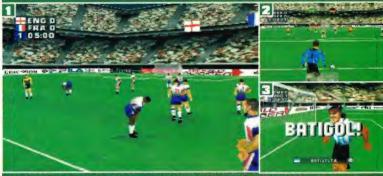

■ Schoolboy footy. Players bunch together

■ Getting your play fluid is almost impossible

What we don't like

Most of it really

We don't like the way Three Lions looks, we don't like the way it plays, or the way it sounds. In fact, we found it difficult picking out anything we really liked. S'pose the box logo's cool if you're English, but if you ain't you won't give a toss.

Puke! Z Less fun than catching yer knob in yer fly Players shout in various mother tongues

We'd like to say...

It seems Three Lions was on sale before we got a copy for review so we couldn't tell you how bad it was before. Soz if you splashed out dosh just 'cos it's the official England game. Remember, an official stamp don't necessarily make it good...

Ugly

If real footballers looked like they do in Three Lions, they'd all be single. Forget Posh Spice or Louise, they'd all be seeing right goppers. In Three Lions they also move like girls and have strange powers over the ball, which is roughly the size of a gobstopper. Well weird.

GALLARRO

1 The England balloon-head team 2 Ooh chase me 3 Balls the size of... cheesy snacks Slow motion goalies. Luckily the ball moves in slow motion

Shooting

When you shoot, you've got to aim using a target, which means three problems. One: aiming is fiddly and slow so you get tackled before you get rid of the ball. Two: if you're gifted a ball in the area you can't snap shoot and by the time you've aimed, you've been tackled again. Three: the keepers save almost everything.

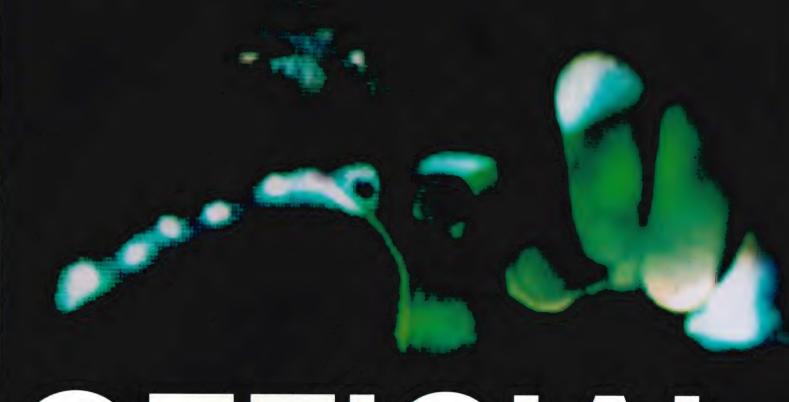

1 A midfield mistake lets in Albertini... 2 The through ball finds Ravanelli... 3 One touch and it's in... 4 But most of the time... 5 You'll shoot wide or the keeper will pull off a magic save

This is an insult to the beautiful game. It should've been the one to celebrate our Boys going all the way in the World Cup. Instead it's an own goal. And a bad one at that. Jon igh-performance fanny magnet cars are for ponces. For a real speed kick, you wanna race on some giant bugs. Er, well, they do in Bugriders. But then, 'they' should have their brains smeared across a Porsche windscreen.

Start your... wings?

You race on insects, and it stinks like week-old shit. To get the bug to a decent speed, you have to whip it. Trying to race while tapping the whip button like a madman makes steering harder. And the steering's crap anyway. You have to pass through hoops on the course to get more time. And that's frustrating. You can move up and down in the track, but that just makes things harder. And the graphics? Well, lets just say 'ropey as hell' and leave it there...

Steer through the gates for time. Yeah, right...

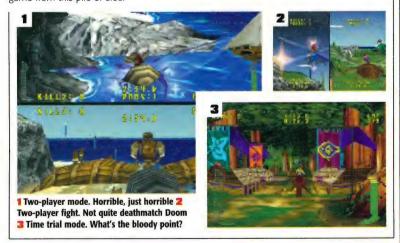

Modes

There are the usual racing game modes here. The two-player mode is virtually unplayable 'cos of the crap viewpoint. Time trial is dull and pointless. Extermination mode is fun for about five minutes. With a bit of creative edging, you can dodge a hefty smack and then nip in behind and give 'em a swift jab in the kidneys.

Bet they'll do well against a bunch of hardened street thugs. The gangs each contain a nice balance of big, small, slow and fast folks with a spread of styles, so there's a real mix of fighters on here...

■ You've got everyone from big bad wrestlers

■ To tiny little kung fu tattoo artists..

■ The university gang... don't quite look tough enough to take on the boyz from the 'hood

It's the beach gang! The horrible brightcoloured clothes are optional

We'd like to say...

Fair enough. LA's a bloody violent place. It deserves a beat 'em up. But let's face it, so does Glasgow. We want more British games. We suggest 'Super Pub Fighter 2' as a working title. You'd have a choice of grizzled winos and temazepam-crazed youngsters all tooled with chair legs and broken bottles. Soul Blade meets Trainspotting. We wait in hope.

Speedy

This game's a nippy little mover. And making use of the way you can strike like greased lightning is the key to success here. Slick combo usage is essential: once you've rabbit-punched some geezer in the guts, you better know to follow up with a smack in the bonce, or they'll come back atcha with a hoof in the nads. Sore

1 Follow up your little flurries of punches with a smack across the head 2 And maybe a swift kick in the stomach 3 But if you're sloppy... 4 You'll get hammered. Just like that.

Tradition, man, tradition

Breath of Fire III has everything the RPG fan could want. Except a life. There's a really 'happy' feel to the game and masses to do in it, with about 40 hours of play. Explore villages, talk to odd people, get experience points, learn some cool spells and solve some mean puzzles. It's classic stuff! If Final Fantasy VII drew you in, then you'll love this. Everything that makes an RPG great is here. Dive in..

The weapons shop. Cool Have dubiously translated conversations

Watch out for the guards

Aw. lookit.

Breath of Fire III may look like some kids cartoon, but don't be put off. After all, Louise is cute, but she always gets the ol' Pink Panther stirring. The graphics look impressive, especially the monsters you fight, and there's loads of detail in villages, characters and scenery, adding to the atmosphere. It won't melt your eyes, but it's a treat to look at...

We'd like to say...

People seem to think that all PlayStation gamers want is eye-bustin' graphics and not much else. They are some people like that, but a swift lobotomy'll sort them out. Breath of Fire III is a great game: simple and involving. Dickheads might turn their nose up at this 'cos of the way it looks, but it's a smart package nevertheless.

Turn-based combat, yeah!

For some reason, everything you come across wants a scrap. Maybe you smell or something. Fights happen randomly as you wander around, but sometimes there are so many they become annoying. Combat is turn-based, so you have loadsa time to make decisions for each character before the attacks happen. The actual combat is easy, and detailed without being anorak. From a simple menu, you

1 The easy menu makes combat a doddle 2 Down Spot, down 3 Fight giant chickens. Better get that Paxo going then 4 If all else fails, clobber 'em with magic

Not as flashy as Final Fantasy VII, but almost as much fun. Frequent fights and the 'kiddy' look may put some people off, but it's engrossing stuff and worth the effort. Nick colleyball. The sunlit sport of tanned, healthy Yanks. Thanks to the miracle of technology, you can have a crack, in the dark, swilling beer, smoking a fag, with a bag of chips. Nice.

Only a game?

And what does V-Ball add to the basic sun and fun volleyball recipe? Violence, of course. If you give the ball a really fierce smack it'll do damage to the blokes on the other side of the net. It's kind of like long distance kung fu, see, but the goal's to lay 'em flat so they can't return the ball...

Comedy combos

There are loadsa different teams: Kung Fu fighters, strange bearded footy players, soldiers, ninjas and the inevitable 'Sexies' (their words). Each set of players has their own combos for special attacks and defenses. And to make the ball go all colourful and flashy. Cool.

1 Kung Fu fella blasts the ball 2 Moves not seen on Baywatch... 3 Special defences keep balls airborne

Fast, furious sporting action with a spicy tang of violence. In two-player mode, this is plenty fun. Probably too limited to buy, but well worth renting... Rob ou've gotta one-way ticket to the Underworld and the only way you're coming home is if you bag every bad guy lurking in Satan's bowels. There are guns galore and ammo aplenty, so get shooting and you might get home before tea...

An entrée of flambéd eyeballs, followed by diced intestine for main course. Delicious...

What we like

Body count

Doom's got more slaughter than a busy abattoir. There's no complex plot to follow, or mind-bending puzzles to solve. You just get yer guns, stack up on shells and rip the shit outta everything that moves. You'd better be ready to wade kneedeep through a sea of bone-spattered gore then, 'cos this half-price horror ain't for the squeamish.

■ That's gotta hurt. A mancubus chews on a shoteun shell

Get in close with chainsaw and lash some monsty ass

Whaddaya do?

Simple really. There are more than 50 levels and all you've gotta do is find the exit and warp to the next one. Shame it ain't quite so easy in practice though, 'cos there's stacks of badass muthas who wanna use your decapitated head as a ping-pong ball.

1 The rules of Doom are very simple: run through corridors and shoot everything that moves... 2 But just when you think you're safe the bastids still keep coming at'cha. Shoot some more... 3 Then, when they're all dead, solve a couple of easy peasy puzzles 4 There are just under 60 levels, including some pretty nifty hidden arenas to discover

Guns 'n' gear

Call us psychos but, hey, we like guns. The bigger the better as far as we're concerned. We collectively cream over the weapons in Doom, which range from a tiny pistol to the baddybuggering BFG. There's also some wicked power-ups and ammo to feed these hungry death dealers, but first you've gotta find 'em...

1 The shotgun's better than the pistol but still not that hot 2 This plasma gun's a badass sonofabitch. Get this, be hard 3 There are other bonuses too, like invulnerability spheres

Deathmatch

The coolest thing about Doom? Could be the mindless blood-spilling, but we reckon the two-player deathmatch still rules. You and a mate are bundled into an arena and the last one standing wins. You'll need two machines linked together and two copies of the game, and now it's dead cheap that ain't much to ask, is it?

■ You've gotta find your chicken-shit mate...

■ When you do, FIRE!

Looks a teeny bit ropey but there are nearly 60 levels of brainbursting, blasting action. And all for 20 quid. Fragging hellspawn ain't never been so good. Alex ou've got yer FIFAs and yer Actuas, but this one's still up there with the best of 'em. Y'see, like the Arsenal back four. ISS Pro maybe slow, but it's reliable, and has the stamina to plough on while others are gasping for air on the bench.

Cheapo old-timer who's still knocking 'em in the back of the net.

What we like

Solid gameplay

This beauty plays like a dream. Passing's dead easy and the through-ball works really well once you've worked out how to use it properly. There are a couple of sure-fire ways of scoring which can be a bit annoying, but then again, it doesn't really matter unless your mate can pull 'em off too!

■ Some of the set-pieces are a bit limited, but the rest of the game rocks

The good and bad

ISS Pro sticks to the good ol' side-on view of the action, which works really well here. The graphics are dead good although it is, let's be honest with ya, a tad on the slow side. And sometimes it feels like the players aren't using the whole field to knock the ball around, giving it a bit of a cramped feel. But these are tiny faults.

1 This may be a replay, but the graphics are still pretty cool 2 Recognise this lot? They might not have the right names but we know who they are 3 If England woz playing we would've caned 'em

Still a winner in our books 'cos it's fun to play. OK, it's not as fast as Actua and free kicks are pretty naff but nobody said it was perfect. Alex ain character with big udders? Check, Exploration and puzzle solving? Check. A few meaty scraps? Check. It's Tomb Raider, right? Nope. In this game you're a pug-ugly Medieval chick in the future. Not a pair of tight shorts in sight...

'Ave a look round

Excalibur 2555AD sees you as Beth, the niece of Merlin the magician, searching the future for the sword Excalibur. You're running around solving smart puzzles with the occasional scrap chucked in. The scraps add some action, and keep it lively. You talk to people, find items littered about and use your bonce to solve the puzzles that get harder as you go. The 12 levels are entertaining and different, but the plodding about can get a bit dull.

Graphics

The game looks a treat, although the scenery could do with the Ikea touch. All the characters you run into look impressive, too. Except Beth. She's as rough as a sandpaper hand shandy. Even after ten pints she'd still be a right growler.

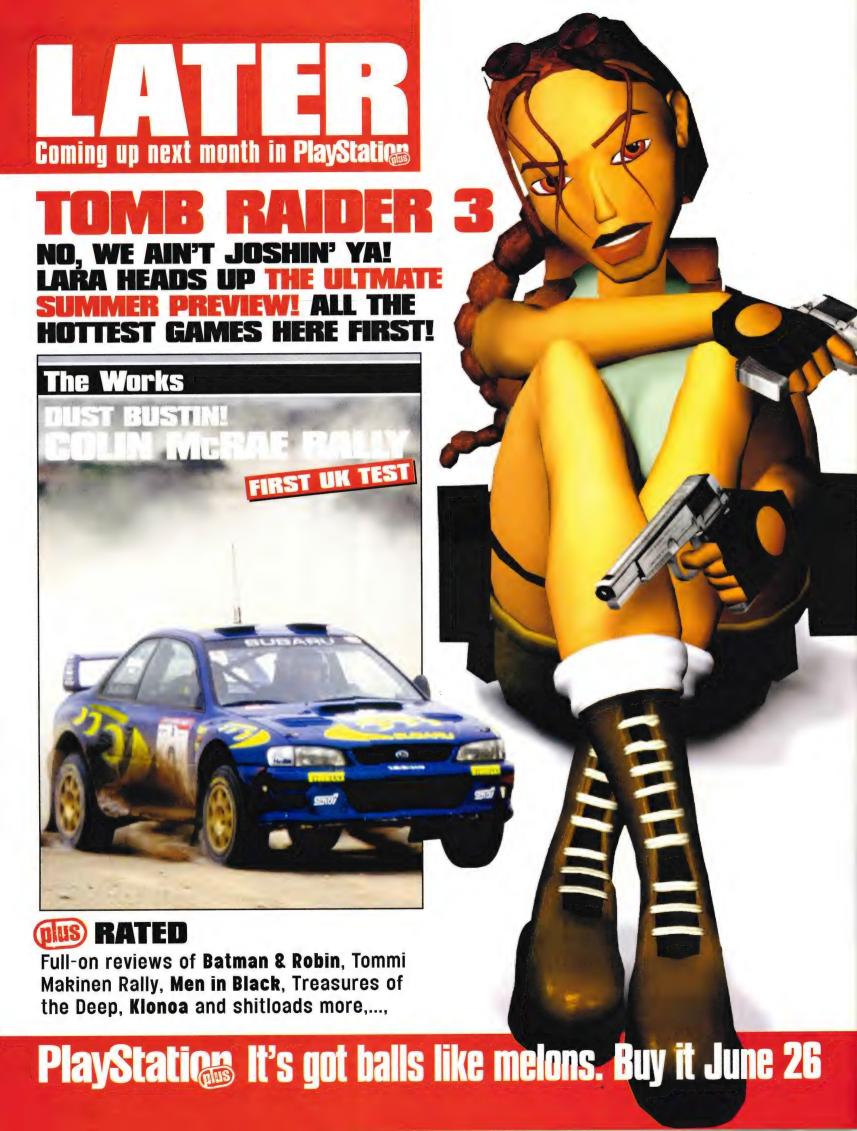

1 It looks dingy, like a starter home 2 Explosions are tops 3 And so are the lighting effects 4 These guys mean business, but look smart

All in all, not a bad game. It lacks the action of Tomb Raider 2 and the splatter of Resident Evil 2. But if you stick with it, you'll get yer 20 quid's worth no problem. Nick

So you've got a Playstation. You've got a driving game. But are you getting that wheel-spinning, powersliding, rubber-burning engine-screaming driving sensation??? NO? A joypad may be a masterpiece of ergonomic design, but when it comes to fishtailing your mean machine through a hairpin at 160mph it just doesn't cut it. There's only one thing guaranteed to give you ultimate control of your vehicle and make the hair on the back of your neck stand up and that's a decent steering wheel. You'll master those tracks. You'll tame those cars. You'll leave the competition standing. You'll shatter those records. You will have ULTIMATE CONTROL!

Games

Gameplay has recently started stocking pre-owned games in addition to our new games and we intend to ensure that these are of the highest quality that you will find anywhere.

- All games must pass a 10 part examination before being resold to ensure "nearly-new" quality.

 All 2nd hand games are guaranteed for 3 months.

 Extremely competitive prices for buying and selling.

This is how you can sell us a game:

1. Your game must be in nearly new condition. We cannot accept anything with torn or stained manuals or damaged boxes and you must clean the CD before sending it to us. Remember that all games are tested when we receive them. If your game doesn't work, we will not buy it and you will have to pay a £4.00 charge to get it back.

2. You must ring us before sending your game in as prices for 2nd hand games can change quite regularly. You will be given an authorisation number which will be valid for one week.

3. You will receive a credit for the agreed amount which you may use against other games or accessories, either new or used.

If you would like to buy a 2nd hand game, simply ring sales for the current price. If your choice is not in stock, you may book a copy and it will be sent as soon as one becomes available. Remember, we do not charge your card until your game is sent!

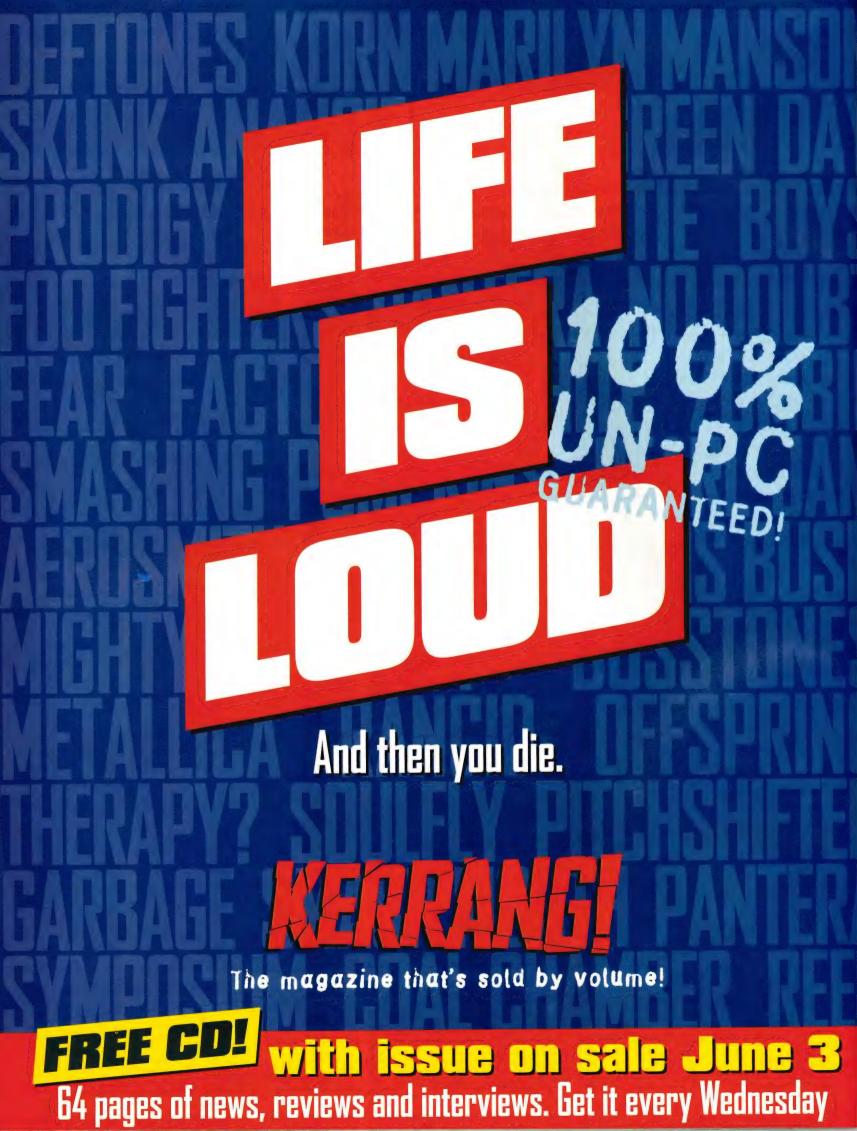

ALL PRICES LISTED IN THIS ADVERT ARE FOR NEW GAMES ONLY - PLEASE RING IF YOU WOULD LIKE 2ND HAND PRICES.

We are also Britain's largest mail order supplier of N64 products! Please call for prices! £90.99!!

PLEASE RING TO CONFIRM AVAILABILITY BEFORE ORDERING IS SOME SPECIAL OFFERS ARE LIMITED STOCK & SOME GAMES MAY NOT HAVE BEEN RELEASED AT TIME OF PUBLICATION

Campaign against Crap American Sweet Names

We fight for the issues you care about icated to preventing the spread of American sweet names, issued a letter to Mars back to Opal Fruits.

And in its reply Mars said, 'I am sorry to hear that you are unhappy about the change number one selling sugar brands in the word and the UK is the only country in the world where this product was sold under the Opal Fruits brand name.

The letter goes on to say that bringing us in line with the rest of the world helps prevent confusion (for who? Tourists?) and that global branding helps them to continue to produce sent us a quid's worth of sweet vouchers JUST FOR WRITING IN AND COMPLAINING. Cool or what? vouchers on Starburst. This is CACA HQ, over and out.

The manifesto

1. The UK was the only place to have Opal Fruits as a name. We should keep it that way.

2. What sort of a name is Starburst anyway?

3. Mars UK is based in Slough. Which, when pronounced, rhymes with 'let's change the names of our sweets now

We can't wait!

Games we're looking forward to

1. Metal Gear Solid

The more we see of this, the more we drool. Strategy and stealth mixed with old-time shoot 'em up. And it looks gorgeous too. This'll be out around November.

2. Colin McRae Rally
July sees this baby steamin' round the corner in a shower of dirt and dust. Colin McRae promises pure skiddified, hang-onand-hope action.

3. Tekken 3

Got yourself an import machine? Then the chances are you already know how slick Tekken 3 is. The rest of us have to wait until September when it makes its way here.

4. Tenchu

You play a ninja assassin and, trust us, you will like it. What other game gives you the chance to creep up on someone and slit their throat? Out September. Start saving.

5. Sensible Soccer 2000
The grandaddy of football games gets a millenium revamp. We should be seeing it around the end of the year. But don't go holding your breath, y'hear.

6. The World Cup final
This will take place between England and Germany. Naturally England will pan the hun
5-0. Goals from Beckham, Batty (pen), Owen,
Shearer and Ince. Nice one lads. Out July 12th. Be there.

Madonna:

These days, Madonna's a mature artist commanding respect from the critics and public alike. But there was a time when Mads was just desperate to be famous. Her first big hit in the UK was Like a Virgin but as our piccies show, she wasn't actually quite that pure. Our Mads had already done a photoshoot for a famous top shelf mens' mag, as well as appearing in a bit of a dodgy movie

Naturally, as soon as she became a famous pop star, all the piccies from her past popped up once again, revealing the fact she once had - gasp - hairy

What we said then:

a corking game... it's way

story so far You been dazzled by the graphics. You pulled out enough hair to open a wig shop 'cos of the tough levels. And now a wild boar? Why is Crash making that suggestive face? He wouldn't, would he...

That magic moment It's clear why Crash has that look. And it ain't 'cos he's taken a shine to the boar... [11] No, Crash, don't do it, you foolish marsupial! [2] He gets on and rides that boar... over a huge gap [Spikes! Jeesus... Better make that boar turn tight or you're gonna get Outta my way bitch, this boar ain't for real holey Almost there, one leap over the roasting pig stoppin' and... We're done. Phew! that's one helluva ride...

Why we like it Just when you expect another platform level, you get this mad ride. It's such a cool change 'cos you really don't expect it: it moves fast, gets the pulse pumping and, even though It's not too hard, you'll still be yelling words at the screen that'd make Roy 'Chubby' Brown blush. And it gets a laff, in a 'Deliverance' kinda
